OF BUTLER
UNIVERSITY

INDIANAPOLIS
INDIANA

A beautiful view of the tower through the trees on the campus—the other picture is an unusual shot of the building.

FOREWORD

Butler University and Indianapolis have grown from humble beginnings together. They have held the common purposes of promoting the progress of civilization, of ensuring the welfare of their people through the mechanism of science and through the power of judgment gained through broader knowledge.

Almost every constructive element in a large city such as Indianapolis has its likeness in the life of a university. The university is the training ground for future citizens and as such must maintain and encourage the institutions and interests for which its students are preparing. Indianapolis and Butler mutually benefit by their characteristic contributions to each other. A city profits culturally, educationally, and gains prestige from close association with a university—the college realizes its advantages from the multiplicity of business opportunities for graduates, and available libraries and experimental stations for undergraduates. Young men and young women can thus live their life and secure their entire education in one community, growing into manhood and womanhood where their business contacts have been formed, where their acquaintances reside, and where, ultimately, they will take their places as leaders and as the backbone of the civic life of the city.

Although the parallel is not always strict, the 1934 Drift has endeavored to symbolize pictorially five of the features of Indianapolis activity and their counterparts on the campus of Butler University.

DEDICATION

We dedicate this volume to Dr. Thomas Carr Howe who, as a president of this university and as a civic leader in Indianapolis, has embodied and expressed the theme of this book in his own life. Butler and Indianapolis alike benefited from his devotion to truth and his characteristic idealism. His energetic participation in civic projects coupled with his constructive educational endeavors inseparably linked the two institutions, one of learning and the other of doing, in the minds and hearts of the citizens of this city.

Dr. Howe pursued the goal of a closer relation between the training of young men and young women, and the metropolis into which they were to cast their efforts. He saw a vision of the future when Indianapolis thought, industry, and philanthropy would be molded by the men who are, today, students in the university and who, tomorrow, will be the leaders of a great city.

It is to promote this vision toward its realization and to revere the memory of the man who gave it great impetus, that we dedicate the 1934 Drift to Dr. Howe.

The Library

The Statehouse is the administrative center of Indiana and, with the City Hall and County Court house, houses practically all of the leaders that govern Indianapolis and the surrounding territory.

The administrative offices of Butler are grouped in a portion of Jordan Hall although at some date in the early future a separate building will be erected in which to house them.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Charter and By-Laws of Butler University provide for a board of directors of twenty-one members. This board, according to the by-laws, "shall be elected by the board of directors, which shall also fill all vacancies in the board as they may occur." The by-laws further provide the board shall be elected triennially. The personnel of the board as now constituted is, John W. Atherton, Indianapolis, financial secretary of the University; Robert C. Baltzell, Indianapolis, judge of the United States District Court; Crate D. Bowen, Miami, Florida, attorney; Arthur V. Brown, Indianapolis, banker; Hilton U. Brown, Indianapolis, treasurer of the Indianapolis News; Lee Burns, Indianapolis, architect; Earl Crawford, Connorsville, Indiana, banker and Speaker of the House of Representatives of the last State Assembly; Edwin Errett, Cincinnati, editor of the Christian Standard; Clarence L. Goodwin, Greensburg, Pa., industrialist; William G. Irwin, Columbus, Indiana, banker and manufacturer; Emsley W. Johnson, Indianapolis, attorney; Arthur Jordan, New York, capitalist; Henry Kahn, Indianapolis, president of the Kahn Tailoring Co.; Hugh Th. Miller, Columbus, Indiana, banker; Charles M. Setser, Columbus, Indiana, banker; John H. Titsworth, Rushville, Indiana, judge of the Rush Circuit Court; Peter C. Reilly, Indianapolis, president the Republic Creosoting Company; Wm. C. Smith, Indianapolis, contractor; and Mrs. Linnie Irwin Sweeney of Columbus, Indiana.

The officers of the board of directors are Hilton U. Brown, president; William G. Irwin, vice-president; John W. Atherton, financial secretary and Charles W. Wilson, secretary-treasurer.

Jordan Hall and the other buildings now in use are but the beginning of an extensive building program adopted by the directors. The general plan calls for additional buildings, as needed, the building operations to cover a period of years. As the need arises and funds are available other units will be erected. Among the first of these additions, in all probability, will be a building to house the College of Religion, an administration building and dormitories. Serious consideration is also being given to the urgent need of a building to provide a common meeting place for student groups and the entire student body. All buildings are to be constructed of the same material as that of Jordan Hall and of the same type of architecture. The program has been temporarily suspended, but with the return of more favorable economic conditions will again go forward.

As soon as conditions will permit, an intensive campaign will be launched by the board of directors to provide additional funds for endowment and scholarships. The directors recognize the fact that, primarily, Butler is an urban institution, and they are committed to a policy and program to build eventually at Fairview a university with a curriculum so comprehensive, and so adequately financed that every young man and woman in Indianapolis and vicinity, with the inclination, and intellectual capacity and ability, shall be able to secure here an education to meet fully his needs and desires.

SENIORS

The class of 1934, the sixth to be graduated from the Fairview campus, is composed of approximately three hundred graduates from the Colleges of Liberal Arts and Education, as well as those affiliated with the Arthur Jordan Conservatory of Music and the John Herron Art Institute.

Last year in the third year of the existence of the class the men of the class chose Mabel Espey to lead the grand march of the Junior Promenade of 1933 with Elbert Gilliom, junior class president. The ball was staged at the Indiana Ballroom on April 21. Music was furnished by Sany Calva and his Southerners, alternating with the Detroiters, under the direction of Zez Confrey and Jack Chapman. Miss Espey was presented a silver loving cup and a bouquet of roses while each woman attending the prom was given a rose. Emsley Johnson, Jr., prom chairman, arranged the dance.

Officers of last year other than Elbert Gilliom, president, were Mary Bohnstadt, vice-president; Betty Dodds, secretary; and Wayne Murphy, treasurer.

The annual Homecoming dance, formerly sponsored by Blue Key, was taken over as a class project in 1934. The purpose of the change was to bring about a feeling of cooperation between the alumni and the seniors.

Due to the success of the dance, the Senior Ball was made open only to members of the graduating class and their guests. The date for this last social gathering is set for June 14.

The class left as its gift to the university a student loan library of college text books and a fund to purchase outstanding books to establish a bookshelf in the library.

As a result of its foresight and its willingness to cooperate, the class of 1934 is the first in several years to be graduated without financial liabilities. Due to the careful planning on the part of its officers, every social function sponsored by the class has been financially and socially successful.

Juniors

The majority of the class that entered Butler in the fall of 1931 returned last fall to take an active part in campus activities, feeling that the junior year requires more work than either the sophomore or freshman, because of the responsibilities of publishing a year book and presenting the annual Junior Prom.

The year 1933 had been a busy one for the class of '35. Officers were Corliss Maxam, president; Mary Catherine Ware, vice-president; Mildred Grayson, secretary; and Karl Sutphin, treasurer.

In December, 1932 the class was host to the school at the annual Sophomore Cotillion. As a feature of the dance the most popular "ed" and "co-ed" of the class were chosen and presented silver loving cups. Harry Riddel was voted the most popular "ed" while Rosemary Ford and Ann Doudican tied for the distinction of being the most popular "co-eds."

In May of last year the class chose Frederick Cretors as editor for the 1934 year book. William Thomas was appointed business manager for the year book by a vote of the Student Council.

Karl Stipher, William McGraw, and Ruth Apostle, who was replaced in February by Marguerite Ham, served as class representatives on the Student Council of last year.

The activities of the class began last fall with the election of the following officers: Fred Clifton, president; Martha Banta, vice-president; Lucy Beasley, secretary; and Addison Coddington, treasurer.

The Junior Prom proved to be one of the most splendid Butler had ever witnessed. It was held in the Egyptian ballroom of the Murat Temple on April 20th. Ace Brigode and his Virginians, called "America's most danceable band," provided the music. Margaret Habich was chosen to lead the grand march as Prom Queen. Howard Campbell was Prom Chairman.

The publication of the Drift was the grand finale of the accomplishments of the class this year. It appeared as the result of concentrated work by members of the class in an effort to compose a book of college memoirs to recall experiences of college days.

The sophomore class has been a fighting one since its introduction to the Fairview campus in September of 1932. It established its reputation in its freshman year by winning a decisive victory over the sophomore class in the annual freshman-sophomore fight held on Homecoming.

Following the same successful methods, it repeated victory in its fight this year against the incoming freshmen, with Ralph Brafford, class president, acting as chief pole greaser. The result of this victory is that the freshmen have had to wear their freshman caps during the entire year.

Four alumni of Shortridge High School were elected officers of the class last year; Robert Udell, president; Jeanne Helt, vice-president; Betty Kalleen, secretary; and Ralph Brafford, treasurer. When Udell dropped out of school at mid-semester last year, he was replaced by Everett Kalb, who led the class in its projects during the remainder of the year.

The most important social event sponsored by last year's freshmen was the annual Freshman Rose dance, which was given March 10, in the Crystal Ballroom of the Marott Hotel. This dance, one of the financially successful dances held last year, was directed by Fred Crostreet, chairman, and the officers of the class.

Jean Southard, who was chosen freshman rose by popular vote, was presented a bouquet of roses and a silver loving cup in token of her position.

Last year the members of the class after becoming acclimated to the university took active parts in many fields of campus activity.

Everett Kalb called the first meeting of the sophomore class last fall for the purpose of nominating new officers. After enthusiastic campaigns for various nominees the class chose the following officers in the election held in October: Ralph Brafford, president; Mary Katherine Mangus, vice-president; Pauline McCarty, secretary; and Parm Dovey, treasurer.

As its major social project of the past year the class sponsored the Sophomore Cotillion, held at the Knights of Columbus Hall on St. Patrick's Day. Decorations were appropriate to the occasion. This dance was a departure from the usual type of sophomore cotillion in that it was much more informal.

Freshmen

The class which entered Butler on September 20, 1933, was one of the largest of the past few years. It was characterized by enthusiasm and ambition.

In the election of Freshman class officers, held in October, Russell Westfall was elected president, but was replaced in February, when he failed to return to school, by Albert Mendenhall. Other officers who were chosen to guide the class in its projects are Dorothy Dunbar, vice-president; Barbara Lambdin, secretary, and Wayne Hertenstein, treasurer.

On October 20 the freshmen received their first set back when the men of the sophomore class demonstrated their physical superiority over the men of the freshman class by defeating them in the traditional scrap between the freshmen and the sophomores. As a result of the fight the men of the freshman class have been forced to wear their blue and green caps throughout the year.

The first social event sponsored by the class was the annual Freshman Rose Dance, which was held on December 9 in the Travertine Room of the Lincoln Hotel. Jesse Fisher was awarded the Freshman Rose cup for beauty and personality as a feature of the dance.

Freshmen have had an active part in campus activities during the entire year and have been kept busy with social, fraternity, and campus affairs. In the fall teas and open houses were held in their honor to give them an opportunity of becoming acquainted with Butler students and Butler traditions.

Members of the class have joined and become active members of campus organizations, making for themselves and their class a place of recognized importance. Pledges to freshman honoraries, Phi Chi Nu and Phi Eta Sigma, were made this spring. Freshmen have found opportunities for service in scholarship, athletics, and campus activities.

The closing event of the year for the class was a combination swimming party, picnic, and dance held on Friday, June 1, at the Riviera club.

The College of Education

The College of Education, organized as the third college of Butler University in 1930, is a combination of the Teachers College of Indianapolis, founded in 1882, and the department of education of Butler College, opened in 1919. The College offers courses for the education of teachers in the various fields—kindergarten-primary, primary, intermediate, junior high school, senior high school, music, art, physical education, and educational administration and supervision as well as work in advanced and clinical psychology. The degrees of Bachelor of Science and Master of Science are granted and students working in the kindergarten and elementary field may so arrange their courses that they qualify for state licenses for teaching at the end of two years and complete the rest of the work for the degree later or in summer or evening classes.

The staff of the College of Education attempts to approach the subject of education both as an art and as a science and to send out graduates which have something deeper than mere teaching technique—a grasp of child development and child needs and the relation of these to the child's and the teacher's place in our present social fabric. In addition, many of the courses found in the curriculum of the College of Education, such as the various courses in child study, the social aspects of education and many others, contain material well adapted to the interests of students of the other colleges of the University. The department of psychology is of general interest and the department of kindergarten education offers opportunities for contact with the very small child, which appeals to many young women who never intend to teach.

A placement bureau is connected with the College and graduates of the present College of Education as well as of the department of education of old Butler and of the Teachers College of Indianapolis are to be found in college, high school, elementary school, kindergarten and nursery school positions all over the United States and in other countries.

The World War Memorial does honor to the men, the dead and the living, who fought for their country, fighting under the influence of thoughts of their home city and state. The city, in one form which a memorial may take, has paid homage to its heroes.

The university in another form, has protected the natural monuments to a Greater Handiwork for the inspiration and guidance of present and future generations.

Phi Kappa Phi

Phi Kappa Phi is a national honor society whose members are elected from the graduating classes and the faculties of the institutions in which chapters exist. Its primary object is to emphasize scholarship in the minds of students and to stimulate mental achievement by the prize of membership. It acknowledges the importance of encouraging scholarship in any line of study and therefore elects students in the various schools and colleges of liberal arts, agriculture, engineering, law, commerce, etc.

Phi Kappa Phi is not a secret organization. It is distinguished especially by the democracy of its elections and its constructive program for the promotion of scholarship. For the promotion of advance scholarship, a certain amount of the dues of the organization are set aside, thus making it possible to award each year three graduate fellowships of $500 each. Every chapter has the privilege of electing one of its seniors as a candidate. Lynton W. Gearhart was elected as the Butler candidate this year.

The organization was founded in 1897 at the University of Maine. Since that time chapters have been established in colleges and universities in practically all the states and in Hawaii, the Philippines and Alaska. The Butler University chapter was installed on April 20, 1922. Honor Day, which is held in May of each year, is under the auspices of the faculty members of Phi Kappa Phi. At this time recognition is given to the academic achievements of the year, and a speaker who is recognized as an outstanding scholar in his particular field delivers an address. Membership is attained through election by the faculty members from students who are in the upper tenth of the senior class, and elections are made each semester. In June of each year initiation is held for the whole group and this is followed by the annual banquet at which the initiates are guests, and all the alumni, both faculty and students, are invited.

Phi Eta Sigma

The mother chapter of Phi Eta Sigma, national freshman scholastic honorary fraternity was established at the University of Illinois, Champaign, Illinois, on March 22, 1923. Since that date thirty-eight chapters located at universities in all parts of the United States have been established.

The purpose of this honorary organization is to recognize unusual scholastic achievement by members of the freshman class. Its intent is to encourage underclassmen of the beginning group to excel in scholarship early in their college careers so that they will be working constantly toward higher scholastic goals.

The chartering of the Butler chapter of Phi Eta Sigma on May 7, 1931, gave Indiana the distinction of being the only state to have three chapters of the organization within its boundaries. The other two chapters are located at DePauw and Indiana Universities.

The newly established group adopted the ideals of the national group and began at once its efforts to encourage a higher standard of learning among freshman men. In this, the third year of its existence on the local campus, Phi Eta Sigma has gained for itself an established place of recognition among honoraries of longer existence. Its former members have in many cases become the leaders in university activity and have carried their scholastic ideals to the attainment of Phi Kappa Phi.

Pledges of Phi Eta Sigma are announced after the beginning of the second semester of each year. They constitute the active membership of the group during that semester, and hold offices during the following year.

Prof. Merwyn Bridenstine of the Economics department was chosen faculty sponsor at the time of the establishment of the Butler chapter of Phi Eta Sigma and has served in that capacity since then.

The officers of the group for this year have been Harry McClelland, president; Ralph Lilly, vice-president; Alfred Meunier, treasurer; Donald Scott, historian; and Harry Langston, secretary.

Phi Chi Nu

Phi Chi Nu, one of the younger organizations on the Butler campus, is the freshman honorary scholastic fraternity for women. Founded in the fall of 1931 in the interest of promoting high scholarship in the undergraduate student body, it has made for itself and maintained a position of importance in student scholastic activities.

The only requirement for membership in Phi Chi Nu is that of making thirty-four or more grade points during the fall semester of the year—only freshman women are eligible. Women are chosen to membership by members of the active chapter.

In an effort to stimulate an interest in scholarship among Butler freshmen, the organization gave a tea last fall in the Recreation room to which all freshmen women who were making over thirty-two grade-points were invited.

The only other project of Phi Chi Nu this year was the giving of an all-school bridge party as a means of raising money to pay for the organization's panel in the 1934 Drift. The affair was held at the Phi Delta Theta house under the chairmanship of Betty Kalleen.

The fourteen charter members of this freshman honorary are juniors this year; active members have been sophomores; and the members who will be active next year were pledged in April and initiated later in the spring. Miss Janet MacDonald of the Classical Languages department was chosen sponsor of the club at its founding and has served in the same capacity since that time.

The seventeen women, freshman last year, who were initiated in May, 1933, chose as the officers of their organization, Mary Katharine Mangus, president; Esther Hoover, vice-president; Gayle Thornbrough, secretary; and Betty Kalleen, treasurer.

Alfred Marshall Honor Society

The Alfred Marshall Honor Society was founded in 1931 by members of the Economics department for the purpose of recognizing and encouraging scholarship among students majoring in economics and business administration. This organization chooses to its membership those students who are high in scholarship and who have shown outstanding ability in working toward their degree of Bachelor of Science in Economics at Butler.

The economics honorary was named after Alfred Marshall, eminent English economist of the nineteenth century, and has done much to stimulate in its members an interest in the type of work in which Alfred Marshall excelled—namely governmental and political economics and business administration.

In the past it has been a custom of the society among its other activities to present each year to the Economics department a picture of some person connected with the field of economics. Since its founding three years ago, the Alfred Marshall Honor Society has given and had hung in the office of the Economics department pictures of Alfred Marshall and J. W. Putnam, head of the department. This year it departed from its usual custom by donating to the department several books on appropriate subjects which may be used for reference by students of the department.

The membership of the organization which is limited to juniors and seniors who meet the scholastic requirements of the society is usually small. This year the new members who were pledged last spring were initiated in the fall at the annual banquet held at the Marott Hotel. They included Elbert Gilliom, Frank Baird, Joseph Taylor, Lloyd Weddle, and Carl Seet, all seniors majoring in economics or business administration.

The officers of the group who were elected at that time and have served for the year are Carl Seet, president; Elbert Gilliom, vice-president; Frank Baird, treasurer; Lloyd Weddle, sergeant-at-arms; and Joseph Taylor, historian. Dr. M. G. Bridenstine of the Economics department is permanent secretary.

Kappa Delta Pi

Kappa Delta Pi, national honor society in education, was installed on the Butler campus in 1931. Originally all students taking practice teaching were eligible for membership, but during the past year the scholastic standard has been changed to require a B average in all academic work.

The purpose of the organization is to encourage in its members a higher degree of social service by maintaining worthy educational ideals, fostering fellowship, and recognizing outstanding service in the field of education.

Officers for the past year were Emma Lou Thornbrough, president; Helen Riggins, vice-president; Virginia Garr, recording secretary; Anna Marie Iske, corresponding secretary, and Janet Jerman, treasurer. Dr. Irvin T. Shultz was counselor for the group.

In December the Butler chapter was host to a state meeting of all the Kappa Delta Pi chapters in Indiana. Dr. T. C. McCracken, national executive president of the organization, was the chief speaker of the day. Representatives from Ball State Teachers College, Indiana State Teachers College, and Franklin College were guests.

In February, Emma Lou Thornbrough was sent as delegate to the national biennial convocation which met in Cleveland, Ohio.

The annual formal banquet of the organization was held in May. At this time a plaque was awarded to the member of the graduation class who expects to teach and who is outstanding in scholarship, activities, and character.

Kappa Kappa Psi

In 1928 members of the still young Butler Band realized the necessity of having some sort of organization within the Band itself. For this reason members of a local band organization had petitioned Kappa Kappa Psi, national band fraternity. In May, 1929, the petition was granted and the Alpha Beta chapter, the first in Indiana, was installed on the Butler University campus.

The prestige of the local chapter was shown when in 1930 Mr. J. B. Vandaworker, director of the Butler Band, was elected vice-president of the national organization, and again in 1932 when he was elected national president. Mr. Vandaworker has served as faculty advisor and honorary president of the chapter since its inception. Emsley Johnson, Jr., has been president of the chapter this year. Other officers are William Watkins, vice-president; Ashton Gorton, secretary; and George Arnold, treasurer.

The chapter at present has twelve active members and numerous alumni scattered over the United States in the various walks of life and particularly in the field of music. All the present members are active members of the Band, working continuously to build up a better musical organization for Butler.

The social activities of the organization consist of an annual dinner-dance for the members and alumni during the latter part of spring and a Band Sweetheart dance in February for the entire school. At this dance, the custom of selecting a Band Sweetheart by popular vote was inaugurated. Miss Jean Southard, a sophomore, representing Arthur Jordan Conservatory of Music was chosen as the Band's first Sweetheart. Other activities of the year were a Band picnic, banquets held each semester in honor of the new members of the fraternity, and a dinner at the end of the year for the entire Band, at which time "B" sweaters are awarded to the senior members of the Band who have completed seven semesters of service.

This summer the Butler chapter will act as host to the delegates of the national convention of Kappa Kappa Psi to be held in Indianapolis.

Kappa Tau Alpha

Kappa Tau Alpha, national journalism scholastic honorary, is known as the Phi Beta Kappa of journalism, since its chief purpose is to stand as a goal for undergraduate scholastic endeavors and election to it to serve as a reward for journalistic excellence.

Its membership is limited to those students who have maintained a high scholastic average during three years of college work in the department of journalism.

The group was organized at the University of Missouri in 1909, a year after that institution established the first school of journalism in the world, in an effort to provide adequate training for students preparing for work on newspapers.

Its membership was at first limited to men who had excelled in scholarship in the new school of journalism. However, in 1921, due to the increasing number of women who were enrolled and to the active parts they had taken in work on the college paper and in other writing projects, the organization was opened also to women.

The Butler chapter of Kappa Tau Alpha petitioned for and received its charter in December, 1929.

Kappa Tau Alpha has no active function on the Butler campus since it was established solely for the purpose of recognizing journalism students who attain high scholastic averages. Students are elected to Kappa Tau Alpha at the end of their junior year in college. Martha Banta and Marie George were the two juniors who were accepted this year.

The senior women who were elected to membership last spring are Mozelle Ehnes, Marjorie Watkins, Frances Wysong, and Marjorie Carr. Mozelle Ehnes has served as president of the organization this year.

Each member has done at least one outstanding piece of work or has held a responsible position on the Collegian. All are majoring in journalism.

Professor J. Douglas Perry, acting head of the journalism department, is the faculty sponsor for the Butler chapter of Kappa Tau Alpha.

Pi Epsilon Phi

Pi Epsilon Phi is a local honorary fraternity which was founded in May, 1933, and reorganized in the fall of 1933 for the purpose of establishing and strengthening bonds of friendship, to promote moral and intellectual development of its members, and to advance and promote home economics.

Membership in Pi Epsilon Phi is based on scholastic standing, activities, qualities of leadership, ability to cooperate, professional attitude, spirit of service, judgment and reliability, and responsibility as a professional worker and leader in community life.

During the past year the organization has secured speakers from the different fields of home economics to give the experience and training necessary for the different opportunities in home economics. Among these speakers was a commercial dietitian who told of the every-day experiences of her work. She explained the equipment which was used in her work, and showed plainly how the work at Butler would fit in the work of the commercial dietitian.

Another speaker, a fashion coordinator, told of planning fashion shows, how the buying was carried on by the large department stores, and how the trends of fashion were established.

Another field which was entered in these series of talks was home decoration. Members were taken from room to room in the selection of house furnishing. An important study which was made was the part which character has in the selection of furniture and furnishings. Everyone realized the importance which art has in this field, and it was advised by the speaker to abandon this field unless one had talent along this line.

Home economics also finds its way to the hospital, so members learned from a student hospital dietitian about the training which one must have to be a hospital dietitian.

Just before the close of the school year, Pi Epsilon Phi had a formal banquet where the new officers for the coming year were presented.

Sigma Delta Chi

Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity, was founded at DePauw University in 1909 and the Butler chapter was given its charter in 1926. The organization has endeavored to elevate the ideals of the profession both on the campus and among local newspaper men.

On Thanksgiving eve Sigma Delta Chi sponsored its traditional Blanket Hop in honor of the most outstanding football senior. Cecil (Petey) Ray received the "B" blanket and Helen Bonnell was elected football queen. A blazing razz sheet, "The Butler Bullegian," was distributed at the dance held at the Indianapolis Athletic Club.

On Feb. 26 Sigma Delta Chi entertained high school journalists from the six Indianapolis high schools with a journalism forum on the Fairview campus. Claude A. Mahoney, feature writer on The Indianapolis Star, spoke to the group at the banquet given at the Campus Club. The students visited The Collegian laboratory and attended the Butler-Drake basketball game following the banquet.

Sigma Delta Chi sponsored an all-school Collegian benefit dance on April 2 at the Riviera Club. The affair netted approximately $60, which was used to purchase new equipment for The Collegian. This affair was distinguished with a razz publication known as "The Berserk Bugle."

On April 14, the local chapter cooperated with the university in sponsoring a state high school journalism field day. Approximately 300 students from 25 high schools attended the lectures in Jordan hall and visited downtown newspaper plants. A special issue of The Collegian was published and distributed to the group.

Joe Macy was president of the chapter for the first semester and Ellsworth Maxwell held the office the second semester. Other officers were Morris King, vice-president, Ashton Gorton, secretary, and Fredrick Cretors, treasurer.

Norman Eldridge, Herbert Kenney, Herbert Lantz, and John Thompson were to be initiated late in the year.

Tau Kappa Alpha

Tau Kappa Alpha, national honorary forensic fraternity, holds a distinguished position both nationally and on the Butler campus. Being founded as a local chapter on this campus in 1908, the organization has grown and developed until at the present time it embraces some seventy-seven chapters.

The school-year of 1933-34 has seen the local chapter more active than for several years. In addition to the usual function of presenting a goal to be striven for by those working in the field of speech and cooperating with all university speech projects, Tau Kappa Alpha has seen the following projects realized:

It promoted an intramural debate program in which fifty debates were held, with practically all the leading organizations, sororities and fraternities participating. The purpose of this program was two-fold, to interest the Butler student body in forensic activities on the campus and to give to the students not particularly interested in varsity debating an opportunity to gain some practical experience in the art of argumentation.

It awarded certificates of recognition for services rendered in the field of forensics, namely, varsity debate and oratory.

Twenty-five student judges were supplied for seven high school debates held throughout the season and for various church and club debates held in the city.

It furnished a corps of speakers to aid in the campaign of the Indianapolis Smoke Abatement League. Approximately fifty students spoke, thereby establishing a closer relationship between Butler University and the city of Indianapolis.

Six persons were initiated into the fraternity during the first semester and six were pledged to membership during the second semester. Emsley Johnson, Sr., a former Butler debater, and Miss Corinne Wellington, sponsor of women's debate, were initiated into the chapter in recognition of their contributions to debate on this campus.

Thespis

Dramatic activities reached a new high point at Butler this year with a number of outstanding successes and achievements by members of Thespis, the university dramatic club.

Thespis was founded in 1927 by drama lovers and members of the speech department under the sponsorship of Mrs. Eugene Fife, instructor in the speech department. The club was under her guidance until September, 1933, when her work was taken over by Miss Frances Beik.

Until this year, members of Thespis have been limited to students who have had work in the speech department. Since the number of students in the speech department was comparatively small, it was decided to make all students interested in the stage eligible. This step marked the first achievement, because, with such a wide field to choose from, the club was able to select only the most talented.

The play season opened with three one-act plays, "Peggy," a Rachel Crothers play, "The Robbery" by Clare Kummer, and "Grandma Pulls the String," which were held in the Thespis Workshop. These plays combined serious drama with hilarious comedy and were acclaimed successful by the first theatre-goers of the Thespis season.

Following these one-act productions the Thespians delighted their audiences with a four-night run of "Ten Nights in a Barroom," done in true melodramatic style.

Irving Berndt, as the portly bartender with his pillowed "bay window," was quite the hit of the production, surpassed only by Jeanne Helt as "little Mary" of "Father, dear father, come home with me now" fame.

Some convincing acting was done by Stephen Bailey as the drunk-en father who later reformed. Victor Griffin, Dale Smith, and Florence Gipe also were outstanding. Others in the cast were Phillipa Schreiber, Florence Tridle, Ramon Espinosa, Edgar Baum, and Harold Miller.

Gay ninety specialty acts were presented between the scenes by Mary Paxton Young, Jeanne St. Pierre, and Richard Gilbert. Between the acts the audience was served beer (root) and pretzels over a real bar while standing ankle deep in good old barroom sawdust.

Thespians achieved fame last year by winning a national radio play contest over the NBC network at Chicago, defeating Wisconsin, Northwestern, and Illinois Universities. This year they have been able to carry on their radio abilities through a weekly broadcast over Station WFBM in Indianapolis.

The crowning achievement of the season was the production of "A School for Scandal," which was presented May 5 in Caleb Mills Hall.

Those in the cast were Mary Ella Pock, Alberta Speicher, Mary Alice Burch, Margaret Habich, Edward Longerich, Samuel Martinez, Walter Judd, Alex Levin, Dale Smith, Irving Berndt, Carroll Reynolds, Herbert Kenney, Victor Griffin, Charles W. Taylor, Joseph Nesbit, Harlan Tyner, Ellis Beghtel, and Glenn Johnson.

The production staff included C'Mari de Schipper as production manager; Howard Jewel, stage manager; Victor Griffin, business manager; and Pierre DeMiller, publicity. All productions were under the direction of Miss Beik.

The officers elected for the year were C'Mari de Schipper, president; Edward Longerich, vice-president; Anna Foster, recording secretary; Mary Margaret Grable, treasurer, and Florence Condrey, corresponding secretary.

Theta Sigma Phi

Alpha Iota Chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, women's national honorary journalism fraternity, was installed at Butler University in March, 1927. The honor of membership is given those women who have shown outstanding ability in journalism, both actively and scholastically. Five women were initiated in March and three were pledged during the spring semester.

The first "Riters' Roundup," an all-school dance, held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in January, was sponsored by Theta Sigma Phi. At this affair the table of etiquette was turned—giving the co-eds an opportunity to replace "the man of the hour," send a corsage, etc. "Walter Winchell" was there to give all the campus dope.

Theta Sigma Phi sponsored a series of literary talks during the year, bringing the following speakers to the campus: Beatrice Burrgan, "Jane Jordan," Claude Mahoney and Mabel Wheeler Shidler, prominent journalists of Indianapolis.

Matrix Table, annual banquet held by each chapter of the fraternity, was given on Friday, May 4, at the Highland Country Club. The guest speaker was Mrs. Agnes McCulloch Hanna, newspaper woman. The occasion was formal with decorations in lavender and green flowers, the fraternity colors. A dance followed from 9 until 12 with Paul Barker and his Band playing. Guests at the banquet included the prominent women on the campus, outstanding Theta Sigma Phi alumnae and representatives from chapters at DePauw and Indiana Universities. A new tradition was started this year by presenting the outstanding woman journalist a gold award at the banquet.

A dinner was given in the spring for the thirty outstanding high school women journalists in Indianapolis. This was followed by a trip through the Collegian laboratory.

Plans for a national convention, to be held June 21-23, are now in progress. Alpha Iota chapter is to have the honor of being the hostess chapter this year. Tentative arrangements include Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt as the guest speaker.

Women's Athletic Association

The local chapter of the national Women's Athletic Association is composed of fifty members who have as their aim the development of physical excellence and skill in all sports such as volley ball, tennis, archery, swimming, hiking, hockey, basketball, and ping pong. It is affiliated with the Athletic Federation of College Women and with all other national W. A. A. organizations.

This year in intramural sports, which were conducted by W. A. A. and participated in by all sororities in competition for a silver loving cup which was won by Kappa Kappa Gamma, heads of sports were Avanelle Breneman, ping-pong; Alice Porteous, volley ball; Olive Steinle, tennis; Mary Newby, basketball; and Jane Crawford, swimming. The volley ball tournament was won by Kappa Kappa Gamma; the tennis tournament by Kappa Alpha Theta; and basketball by Alpha Chi Omega; swimming and baseball by Kappa Kappa Gamma.

The organization had as its guests delegates from fifteen colleges throughout the state for its annual Play Day held March 8 at the Field House. Mildred Grayson acted as general chairman for the affair. One hundred twenty-five girls were entertained during the morning by participation in group games of various sorts—basketball, ping-pong, and obstacle races.

At noon members and guests attended a luncheon and welcoming at the Campus Club planned by Grace Shelton. Other games and a swimming pageant directed by Juanita Kehn constituted the afternoon entertainment.

Two late spring activities held for members of W. A. A. were an overnight hike to a cabin at Forest Park in Noblesville, May 4 and final award day and a senior banquet in June.

Officers for the past year were Wilma Bradford, president; Eleanor Rathert, vice-president; Myra Orr, secretary; and Magdalene Adams, treasurer.

Blue Key

The national organization of Blue Key was founded at the University of Florida in 1924, and in 1926 granted a charter to the Butler chapter which was originally the Skulls Club, established by Pat Page in 1920.

The purpose of this national honorary of seventy-five active chapters is to recognize men who have rendered distinguished service to their school and to act as a service group which attempts to see that no worthy project is left undone. In the latter vein Blue Key each year stages the banquet in honor of the football team, and last December had the largest attendance in its history. This year, for the promotion of school spirit, it, in conjunction with the Wabash chapter, established the "Old Iron Key" trophy which traditionally will go to the winner of the annual Butler-Wabash football battle.

Attempting to assist in an emergency, Blue Key also sponsored the Jersey Jug drive, to assist in the purchase of new jerseys for the football players. To renew a faltering tradition, the organization on May 9 staged the first annual "Blue Key-Hole," a program of short vaudeville stunts by campus fraternities, and enjoyed a good attendance. This project had formerly been given by the Y. M. C. A. Closing the school year, the chapter held its annual initiation dinner-dance, marking the reunion in a delightful summer setting of many members and alumni.

Active membership is limited to seniors who are picked and pledged during their junior year on a basis of all-around leadership, activity, and character. Meetings are held on the average of twice a month and take the form of dinner-discussions for the discharge of business and social enjoyment. They promote a spirit of friendship and fellowship between the various fraternities on the campus, and prove an excellent method of discussing possible improvements and general university conditions.

Attempting to promote a close relationship between men students and faculty members, and to recognize the service of the latter in student welfare, Blue Key has elected several prominent faculty men to honorary membership, and welcomes these men to all meetings. Professor G. A. Schumacher has acted as the official faculty advisor this year.

Scarlet Quill

Scarlet Quill was founded in 1921 for the purpose of giving recognition to girls who had come into prominence through scholastic and activity attainments at Butler. In 1923 the organization became a distinctly senior honorary with members pledged near the close of their junior year.

Since its founding Scarlet Quill has endeavored to cooperate with the faculty in sponsoring various school activities and in upholding Butler traditions. In 1922 the group gave a senior banquet and in 1923 assisted in the Butler Founders' Day activities by selling tickets and doing the advertising. That same year Scarlet Quill members set a constructive precedent by awarding a scholarship to the sophomore woman who had made the highest grades in her class during her first three semesters at Butler. This tradition has been carried on by each succeeding group. Announcement is made on Honor Day of the winner of the Scarlet Quill scholarship. The winner in 1933 was Mildred Grayson.

The opening of school in September found ten senior women eager to wear the scarlet quill, the organization's insignia, on their senior jackets. These ten girls have worked together on numerous projects throughout the year under the guidance of Mrs. Alice Bidwell Wesenberg, their sponsor.

The first undertaking of the group under the leadership of Betty Dodds, president, was an all-school bridge party held at the Campus Club in October. During the first semester alumnae of Scarlet Quill were honor guests at a box supper.

In November Mrs. Wesenberg entertained the group at a dinner in her home. At this meeting plans were made for the first Scarlet Quill Costume Ball which was held February 16 in the Crystal Ballroom of the Marott Hotel.

Sphinx

The local chapter of Sphinx was installed on the Butler campus by the degree team from Wabash in 1920. Other chapters in the state are located at Indiana, DePauw and Purdue with numerous chapters at the leading universities throughout the country. The purpose of this organization is the cultivation of an interest in extra-curricular projects, and the maintenance of high standards of good fellowship among the men of the various fraternal organizations on the campus.

Pledges are chosen from the sophomore class near the end of the school year and are initiated in the fall. To become members they must have a junior standing in the following September.

The activities of Sphinx have always been to promote a better feeling among the undergraduates. This year the organization formed a rooting section to pep up the spirit at the athletic games. Members also held their annual membership dance and it was well attended by members, alumni and friends. Most members are busy in athletic, scholastic, and fraternal activities and have little time to undertake others.

White skull caps trimmed in black identify members and are conspicuous at all university events. The membership pin consists of a gold sphinx head. The key of the Butler chapter is the letter "B" on which is set the white and black cap. Keys of the other chapters are made of the letter of their respective schools. Pledge ribbons of the organization are also black and white and are worn on the coat lapel.

During the past semester the officers of the organization were president, Howard Campbell; vice-president, Ora Hartman; secretary, Karl Stipher; treasurer, Edgar Baum.

Men pledged for next year are Frederick Ryker, Edward Humston, Ralph Brafford, Wallace De Hart, Clyde Robinson, Mark Decker, Richard Peine, Everett Kalb, James Wulle, Jack Carr, William Rohr, Luther Martin and Parm Dovey.

Chimes

The junior honorary for women, Chimes, was founded in 1922 under the sponsorship of Professor Evelyn Butler, who was at that time dean of women, for the purpose of aiding freshmen women in becoming acquainted with Butler institutions and customs. Membership is comprised of nine juniors outstanding in scholarship, activities, and personality.

During the past year Chimes members were hostesses at two teas at which they entertained transfer students, welcoming them to the university and assisting them in becoming acquainted. Both teas were held in the Recreation room. The first, in October, was in charge of Mildred Grayson, and the second, in February, was supervised by Edna Cabalzer. Ann Doudican, president of the honorary, presided at both teas.

Active members assisted at a tea given by the Women's Faculty Club in December, and acted in the capacity of ushers for the State Deans' convention held at Butler in April. They also assisted at other university meetings and teas during the year.

Chimes' annual Sweetheart dinner was one of the outstanding social events of the year, drawing many alumnae of the organization back to the campus. This year, the dinner, at which active and alumnae members still in school acted as escorts to their college "sweethearts," was held on May 8 at the Marott Hotel. Decorations were carried out in gold and silver, the colors of the organization. Toasts given in response to that of Ann Doudican were made by Magdalene Adams, president of Chimes last year, by Miss Lucille Morrison, faculty advisor, and by Marjorie Lytle, as representative of the alumnae group. Dancing followed the dinner in completion of the evening's entertainment.

The officers for the year were Ann Doudican, president; June Willcutts, vice-president; Laura Duffy, secretary; and Olive Steinle, treasurer.

Dinner meetings were held once a month at the various sorority houses on the campus and special business meetings took place occasionally.

Utes

The Utes Club was founded in the fall semester of 1929 by a group of sophomore men who were prominent in campus activities. Its name is derived from the first letters of the words explaining its purpose, "university traditions enforced by the sophomores."

Its aims are to promote sophomore class unity and activity, to acquaint freshmen with university traditions, to encourage harmony among campus organizations, both fraternal and non-fraternal, and to act as a guiding organization for constructive school functions.

The Utes Club this year has undertaken more activities and rendered more constructive service to the university than during any other year in its history.

On the day before Homecoming, Utes sponsored the annual freshman-sophomore fight on the parade ground east of Jordan Hall. This year's fight was won by the sophomores. With the hope of raising a fund with which to buy a moving picture machine for Butler, the club gave an all-school dance November 4 at the Marott Hotel. It chose as hostess for this dance Betty Ramey, as a representative of the senior class, Ann Doudican, of the junior class, Eunice Mae Howell, of the sophomore class, and Winnifred Hoyt, of the freshman class.

As a tribute to the football team Utes sponsored a send-off just before the players left for St. Louis to play the last game of the season.

At the beginning of the basketball season several members of the organization spoke at luncheons of various clubs in the city to acquaint people of Indianapolis with basketball at Butler. On January 16 the club held an all-school bridge tournament in the Campus Club. Members of Utes served as guides on an exhibition tour through Jordan Hall at open house night, February 17.

In the spring the club planted a "Utes tree" on the campus and hopes to make this activity a yearly tradition. The most important activity of the semester was giving of the annual basketball banquet at which time tribute was paid to the Butler varsity and freshman teams.

Spurs

The Butler chapter of Spurs, national sophomore honorary organization, was installed May 5, 1933, at the Delta Delta Delta house by Diane Lamoreaux, Spurs national installing officer, twenty-five members of Scarf Club having petitioned for the Spurs charter. At the time of installation, Miss Helen Cade was named faculty advisor and Miss Florence Renn alumnae adviser. Mrs. Alice Bidwell Wesenberg and Miss Kathryn Journey, faculty members, were initiated as honorary members along with the faculty and alumnae advisers.

Scholarship, activities, and character are the basis of selection for membership. Freshman women are pledged in May. Eighteen women were initiated by the charter members, October 27, 1933, to carry on their ideals of loyalty and service to the school. Initiation for two other pledges was held March 29, 1934.

Early this year, the officers, Jeanne Helt, president; Betty Kalleen, vice-president; Rebecca Blackley, secretary; Jane Crawford, treasurer, and Martha Coddington, editor, were elected to direct the activities of the group.

At the annual Kid Kaper, given in honor of freshmen women, January 17, at the Campus Club, Butler coeds in kiddish attire vied for the prizes, Dorothy Bluemel, Virgilia Wells, and Jane Crawford winning with the funniest, prettiest, and most clever costumes, respectively.

Spurs members were chosen to assist at the Women's Council tea in the Recreation room of Jordan hall, March 28. Housemothers, presidents of mothers' clubs, and faculty allies of sororities were guests.

The entire chapter aided in the decoration of the fieldhouse for the second Butler indoor relays.

To add to its treasury, the organization sold caramel apples at the sorority houses and had occasional bake and candy sales.

Spur members ended the year's activities with a dance, June 2.

Band

Butler's most active campus musical organization, the university band, had a rather indeterminate founding many years ago on the Irvington campus.

In the fall of 1919, at a football game between DePauw and Butler gridsters, the idea of a band for Butler was conceived by two of the directors of the university, who immediately launched a campaign to raise money to hire a director for it. The original Butler band had twelve pieces and no uniforms.

Continuing to grow rapidly, its members numbered about forty in 1921 when J. B. Vandaworker was engaged as director, and sixty in 1929. Director Vandaworker is grand president of the national band fraternity, Kappa Kappa Psi. This fraternity was brought to the Butler campus in 1928 and is made up of band members who show ability, talent, and interest in the organization's activities.

In 1927 the band made its first extended tour, playing a series of concerts in cities throughout central Indiana. During the past few years, it has played numerous outdoor concerts in the city for such occasions as National Music Week, has broadcast at intervals over WFBM, and has made several concert tours.

For the first time in the band's history, members sponsored an all-school dance this year. The affair was held in the Hotel Antlers' Oriental room, and Miss Jean Southard, sophomore, representing Arthur Jordan Conservatory of Music, was elected "Band Sweetheart."

During the 1933 football season, the band traveled with the team to the Butler-Cincinnati game, where the musicians were guests at a dinner given by the Cincinnati chapter of Kappa Kappa Psi. The only other out-of-town trip made by the band this year was to the Butler-Notre Dame basketball game at South Bend.

Classical Club

The Classical Club is one of the oldest organizations on the Butler campus. It was founded on the Irvington campus and has endeavored during the years of its existence to fulfill its aim of banding together those students of Greek and Latin who are interested in classical culture.

The club has conducted its meetings in the form of discussion groups studying subjects pertaining to Greece and Rome.

During the past year members of the faculty and outside speakers have led discussions of these subjects. Other speakers who are interested in the classics have given interesting informal talks often supplemented by lantern slides and other illustrative material.

Meetings were held on the second Tuesday of each month throughout the year at sorority and fraternity houses and in Arthur Jordan hall under the sponsorship of Dr. Janet Macdonald and Dr. Henry M. Gelston both professors in the Classical Language department, and were presided over by Anna Marie Iske, president of the Classical Club.

Officers other than Miss Iske are Helen Riggins, vice-president; Shirley Harvey, secretary; and Marilyn Knowlton, treasurer. These women are students in the Classical Language department.

The closing event of the school year, 1934, sponsored by the Classical Club was an outdoor picnic which took place on the Fairview campus north of Jordan hall. Many members attended this last club meeting held in June just before the closing of school.

After the picnic supper members discussed plans of the organization for next year intending to continue the same form of entertainment for club meetings in the future.

Debate

One of the most alert of the organizations on the Butler campus is the Debate squad which this year is under the supervision of the English department.

There has been an endeavor by the debate group to develop and enlarge the field to such an extent that a large number of students might be offered an opportunity not only to participate in forensic competition but also to judge and direct the work of other teams, for the importance of this branch of speaking is being slowly recognized as an essential attribute of any educated person.

Miss Corinne Welling, professor of English, has served as the sponsor of the girls in their series of debates during the winter, and C. H. Walters, instructor in English in charge of public speaking, has proved himself a competent and efficient coach of both the men's and women's teams.

This season the squads of the men's and women's teams have had an extensive program, having participated in eighty-five debates, some of which were inter-collegiate and others practice debates presented as programs in churches throughout the city.

The most important event of the year, that which climaxed the debating season, was the tournament in which the outstanding colleges from six surrounding states competed at Manchester College. Eighteen of the most competent debaters from Butler were chosen from the two squads. In this manner the opportunity was afforded of meeting some of the strongest teams in the middle-west.

The debaters who attended the Manchester tournament were: Edgar Baum, Dudley Hutcheson, Richard Maxwell, Joseph Calderon, Frank Demmerly, Franklin Seidensticker, Emsley Johnson, Fred Clifton, Gray Burdin, Lester Enøe, Karl Stipher, Marian Ballinger, Ann Foster, Ruth Schwab, Evelyn Willsey, Barbara Sullivan, and Mary Alice Burch.

A banquet, given by Tau Kappa Alpha, national forensic fraternity, was held in March after the last debate with the purpose of stressing the importance of speech and presenting awards to those students who had participated in debating during the year. At that time certificates stamped with the Butler seal were awarded to those debaters who had shown sufficient interest and promising ability during the season.

To those who had attended the Manchester tournament and had proved themselves in every way efficient debaters and worthy students were given debating keys bearing on them imprints of the tower of Jordan Hall.

Those students who received these awards were Edgar Baum, Dudley Hutcheson, Richard Maxwell, John Thompson, Frank Demmerly, Franklin Seidensticker, Marian Ballinger, Evelyn Willsey, and Barbara Sullivan.

One of the unusual projects which the debaters have carried out this year is the pre-intra-collegiate program. Through this project high school debaters from many towns in Indiana have been provided an opportunity of entering into competition with Butler debaters. Members of the squads participating have served as the judges for these high school debates, and likewise have been constructive critics of them. At least four hundred high schools were represented in this program.

Another new program which is being sponsored by the debate group is the introduction this spring of a series of intramural debates. Tau Kappa Alpha will assist in conducting the project.

Students of the Butler squads may participate in case of necessity, but preferably other representatives from each sorority and fraternity will enter into forensic competition, thus furthering the interest of speech on the campus.

International Relations Club

The International Relations Club was founded at Butler University in 1925. Since that time universities throughout the country have established organizations of the same nature.

The club is composed of students who are eager to learn more about the social, economic, and political problems of the various nations. Bimonthly meetings are held besides several all-school special programs. By means of discussion, study groups, and outside speakers, the members hope to attain a more comprehensive understanding of the differences which cause contention in international affairs.

It was not long until a national organization was founded and grew with such rapidity that state, interstate, and national conventions were soon realized. At such meetings prominent men are procured as speakers.

The Carnegie Foundation for peace soon realized the importance of such an organization and now spends large sums of money in books, pamphlets, and in other ways to encourage and support the principles of the International Relations clubs.

The rise of Hitler in Germany, the continued dominance of Mussolini in Italy, the riots in France, and the general unsettled condition of European affairs have given excellent subject matter for discussion in the club during the past year. The possibilities of war in the near future have been debated and many prophecies and theories have been aired as to the participation of the United States in another European conflict. Study groups have had particularly rich materials to deal with in the question of the wisdom of dictatorships in various countries in view of national emergencies.

Through the cooperation of Prof. Tolbert F. Reavis in the interest of the Relations club, Governor McNutt gave an all-school address on subjects of international interest.

Officers for 1933-34 were Richard Maxwell, president; John Scott, vice-president; Margaret Hollon, secretary; Wilma Aulenbacher, treasurer.

Publications

FREDERICK CRETORS

Drift

The 1934 Drift marks the first appearance of the Drift on the Butler campus in two years. The 1933 yearbook suspended publication for financial reasons. In taking up the task again, the 1934 staff sought to establish the Drift on a sounder basis of operation. A permanent office was erected in the east basement of Jordan hall where the staff could work more efficiently and some permanent equipment was secured for the office.

The Student Council passed a ruling that candidates for the position of editor of the next year's book must have performed satisfactory work as sophomore assistants. William Rohr and Simon Reisler were the assistants for this year. A new position, that of coed editor, was created and was filled by Ann Doudican. The entire staff worked at high speed toward the end of the year to complete the work and a great deal of credit belongs to them for the loyal and conscientious effort they have put into the Drift. Olive Steinle, of the sales staff, deserves particular mention for her record sale of 110 books. She received a sales cup in recognition of her work. Margaret Martin and Helen Clever, whose pictures do not appear below, were assistants to Miss Doudican.

Prof. J. Douglas Perry, of the journalism department, served in the capacity of editorial adviser, and Prof. George F. Leonard was financial adviser. The staff is indebted to Noble Ropkey of the Indianapolis Engraving Company for the ideas which he contributed and for his aid in the actual work, which has added measurably to the beauty of the book and the lightening of the extra burdens of the staff. Mr. W. D. Crooker of the Rogers Printing Company has been of invaluable assistance through his suggestions and understanding of printing problems.

The Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce kindly contributed a number of the pictures of the city which appear in the opening section and main division pages. Favorable comments have already been received at this writing on the portraits that were taken by the Nicholson Studio. A large part of the snapshots and a number of the groups were taken by the editor. A "snoopshoot" contest for the best snapshots of campus life and scenery was conducted. The prize winners have been announced elsewhere in the book.

It has been the aim of the staff to present an accurate picture of the campus life of Butler during the past year and no one will regret it more sincerely than the staff if any errors mar your enjoyment of these pages.

Throughout the main divisions of the Drift the staff has also endeavored to portray the union of interests which links Butler closer to the projects and institutions of Indianapolis.

We shall feel well repaid for our efforts if the 1934 edition meets with your approval and if, in the years to come, it recreates and stirs memories that will return us all in spirit to our college years.

ELLSWORTH MAXWELL

Collegian

For the first time since its founding, The Collegian has been printed on the Fairview campus this year. With the establishment of the University Press in Room B-33 of Jordan hall last summer, the publication office was moved from a downtown commercial printing shop to the university. Although The Collegian was handicapped by lack of equipment and by the accompanying rearrangements, the publication has progressed steadily and many of the mechanical problems which confronted it at the beginning of the year have been solved.

During the greater part of the first semester The Collegian went ahead without the assistance of Prof. J. Douglas Perry, acting head of the department, who was seriously injured September 21 in an automobile accident. While Mr. Perry was recuperating, Herbert Lewis, managing editor of the paper during the spring semester of last year, supervised the publication and Mr. Norman R. Buchan handled the departmental business.

Ellsworth Maxwell was appointed managing editor and Marjory Watkins was named advertising manager of The Collegian for the first semester. Harrison Miller and Frederick Cretors both served as city editor at the beginning of the year, but were forced to give up their work because of other activities. During the latter part of the first semester Martha Banta took charge of the city desk, with Frances Brumit serving as news editor and Clement Craig as sports editor. Herbert Kenney was make-up editor, and Jeanne Helt and William Akin were rewrite editors. On the business staff Marie George was circulation manager, with John Black as her assistant.

With the beginning of the second semester the journalism department devised a system of staff organization which would make it possible for candidates for the editorship to work into that position through a definite series of staff positions. Instead of having a managing editor in direct charge of the paper as had been the practice for several years, the position of editor-in-chief was created and the most eligible candidate for next semester's editor-in-chief was appointed managing editor. Under the new set-up the editor-in-chief was placed in charge of the publication with the managing editor shouldering much of the responsibility and work.

Ellsworth Maxwell was appointed editor-in-chief of The Collegian for the second semester and Ashton Gorton was made managing editor. On the business staff John Black was elevated to advertising manager and Kenneth Golden replaced him as assistant to Miss George.

As a part of the new organization Marjory Watkins and Frances Brumit were appointed associate editors, and Miss Watkins was placed in charge of the editorial page of The Collegian. Martha Banta, Morris King, and Herbert Lantz were made news editors and Herbert Kenney continued as make-up editor. Ruth Mary Morton, with Lucille Morrison as her assistant, supervised the society news.

The city desk was headed by John Thompson as city editor, with William Akin as his assistant and Norman Eldridge as night city editor.

William Rohr took over the sports editorship and Dorothy Goldsmith held the office of librarian. Rewrite editors were Maurine Campbell, Jeanne Helt and Frances Wysong. Norval Ayers served as Obiters Dicta columnist.

JOHN THOMPSON

MSS

The students of Butler University, particularly those interested in writing, have recognized for some time the need of some kind of an outlet for the publication of their work. Some years ago there appeared on the campus a literary publication known as The Tower. It did not prosper and was discontinued after a while.

The first MSS was published immediately before the Christmas holidays, principally through the efforts of John Thompson who was appointed editor of the magazine for the current year.

The new publication will be published in the future three times a year and will consist of approximately twenty-four pages. It will be divided, in content, into two sections, one for freshmen contributors and the other for upperclassmen or for anyone who is interested in writing. The contents of the magazine will be drawn, for the most part, from work submitted in Freshmen English Composition classes and in the advanced composition classes of the English department. This section is intended to replace the material formerly contained in the freshman leaflet. It is hoped, however, that all student-writers will be active contributors.

The first issue contained only prose literature. The variation in types of manuscripts was almost as great as the number of authors. The manuscripts included a soliloquy, a story of the innocent romance of a retired business man, reminiscences of the past, dreams of the future, and a story of "the puritans". All of the authors showed delightful originality of thought.

The second issue which appeared the second week in May showed a marked improvement in content over the first edition, according to Thompson. The freshman work, especially, was much improved.

This issue was composed entirely of prose articles and short stories. Five excerpts from freshman themes, chosen because of their merit in description and diction, were "Night Scene" and "Beware of Bovines!", by Maxine Peters; "On Being Nineteen," by Betty Davenport; "Smart Fish", by Nelson Collins; and "Artistic Indianapolis", by Jane Colsher.

Other contributions of the May issue of MSS were "Night Life on the River", by Jane Colsher; "Fog at Midnight", by Aliceruth Johnson; "How to Catch Salt-Water Crabs", by Aliceruth Johnson; "Women Shoppers", by Stephen Bailey; "Dog-Gerel", by James D. Pierce Jr.; "Pinkie", by Grace Ferguson; "Where the Heart Is", by Mary Catherine Furkhouser; "The Trials of Being Both a Minister and a Father", by Margaret Foster; "Forgetting", by Harriet Perkins; "Vacations", by Barbara Oakes; "Angles", by Martha Rose Scott; "The Foods of My Childhood," by Arleen Wilson; "There Was a Crooked Man", by M. D. Eddingfield; "Twentieth Century College Student", by James Jordan Stewart; and "Guethary", by Louise Garrigus.

The last number of MSS brought out in June featured the prize-winning entries in the 1934 Butler Literary Contest, in the upperclassman section.

Next year the sponsors of the new magazine hope to put the Freshman English classes in charge of the publication of MSS and thus allow rotating editorships. The office will be honorary.

The faculty advisors for 1933-34 have been Don Sparks and Miss Allegra Stewart, both of the English department.

Student Council

The Butler University Student Council has acted for the past six years as the medium of student voice to the administration in promoting constructive campus projects.

This year the Council has as its president Emsley Johnson, Jr. The membership of this group is limited to five seniors, four juniors, and three sophomores. These representatives are elected by their respective classes each spring.

Miss Allena Grafton and Professor George Schumacher were chosen by the Student Council as faculty advisors.

In the past year the Council has taken complete charge of campus elections including the balloting in all-school popularity contests. This is a decided step forward in an effort to avoid campus politics. The work was under the direction of Ann Doudican, chairman of the elections committee.

The Council obtained the approval of the Deans' Council on a bill whereby ten per cent of all profits made on any all-school dance is to be turned over to a fund to aid organizations whose projects are not financially successful. This fund is disbursed under the supervision of the Student Council.

Representatives from the Student Council worked with Collegian and faculty representatives to secure the improvement of Clarendon Road as a through street leading from 38th Street to the campus. Through their efforts work has been begun on the road by C.W.A. workers.

Revision of the Student Council constitution has made the requirement that prospective candidates for yearbook editors must work on the editing of the Drift of the preceding year.

The Student Budget drive was conducted in the fall by the Council under the chairmanship of Elbert Gilliom. Representatives of the group cooperated with the faculty in the planning of chapel programs as a part of their work on the chapel committee which was headed by Stewart Smith.

Karl Stipher was elected president of the Council for the year 1934-35.

Men's Union

The Men's Union is a national organization formed for all men students of the university. Its intention is to serve as a democratic organization in which both fraternity and non-fraternity men may find opportunities for service to Butler.

The Butler Men's Union was founded in 1925 while the university was located on the Irvington campus. Its purpose, as it was then, is to foster and promote school spirit by sponsoring and assisting in various social activities and university projects in which the men students have an interest.

This year the efforts of the Union toward a long-sought-for goal were realized when a frame structure to be known as the Men's Union Building was acquired. The organization feels that this is an important step in its development. The building has been used during the year as a meeting place and recreation center for men students.

In cooperation with the university officials, the building, formerly a private home, located conveniently northwest of Jordan Hall, was renovated and prepared for use. The hearty response to the student body and the University Mothers' Club in a furnishings campaign made it possible for the men of Butler to have a comfortable furnished building of their own.

It is the hope of the members of the Union that this Men's Union Building is but a beginning upon which to build its plans for a finer recreation hall for men sometime in the future.

Howard Campbell was president of the Men's Union during the first semester of the year, but being forced to resign because other activities was replaced by Harry Garman in the second semester. The governing board consists of seven men students who meet once each week in the Men's Union Building.

In addition to sponsoring the annual sale of freshman caps, the Union has sponsored two all-school dances, a pep-session, and has aided in encouraging activities of a worthwhile nature.

Woman's League

Woman's League this year entered upon the second decade of its existence. The league was founded in 1923 to foster a spirit of pride in the achievements of the school, to promote college spirit by maintaining high social and moral standards, and to attain a unification of the women of the student body, providing equal opportunity for organized and unorganized women. All women students are eligible to membership.

The major project of Woman's League has been the continued maintenance of a fund for a Woman's Building, to which originally several organizations were contributors, Woman's League giving the strongest support. Each year proceeds from the sale of song books, rental of lockers, and dues of members are added to the fund. An important function of the league is the supervision of a point system regulating extra-curricular activities among the women.

The tenth anniversary of the founding of the League was officially marked October 28, at the annual President's Day Breakfast. The toasts followed the idea of a Decade of Progress, and gave a resume of the past achievements of Woman's League. Miss Evelyn Butler was guest of honor and guest speaker. At that time, Alpha Omicron Pi was presented the Woman's League attendance cup. Alpha Chi Omega placed second in attendance. The possession of a cup which is awarded each fall to the sophomore who maintained the highest scholastic average during her freshman year was earned by Sylvia Lichtenberg, whose average was 2.73. Doris Jane Meuser and Gayle Thornbrough received honorable mention.

In January the league sponsored a matinee talk, presenting Miss Allegra Stewart who related some of her interesting and amusing experiences during her stay at International House in England. Following the program, members of the league served tea to those present.

The gala event of the year was May Day on May 26 when Mary Stierwalt was crowned May Queen. A pageant portrayed a typical English May Day in the time of Queen Elizabeth, including a colorful procession, various dances, and a play. Festivities were concluded with the May Day dance at night.

Y. M. C. A.

The Butler Young Men's Christian Association during the last year made the effort to cooperate with student groups on the campus in stimulating clear thinking on the greatest values in life.

A promotion committee of twelve was organized by David Pellett, Albert Anderson, Dudley Strain and Stewart Smith, with Mr. Vernon Parker as student secretary linking the local organization with the Indianapolis Central Y.M.C.A. and the national movement. Stewart Smith was elected chairman and Dudley Strain secretary. All finances were eliminated. All work was done by volunteers.

With the cooperation of the Y.M.C.A. men at the Universities of Pittsburgh and Cincinnati and the leadership of Mr. Arthur Rugh the men prepared an interview outline on "The Religious Life of Students." From over sixty men in all kinds of campus activity they got honest and thoughtful answers to such questions as: "What is God like?", "Does the Church help or hinder social progress?", "Does religion have anything to do with buying clothes or finding a job?", "If religion means more or less to you than it used to, what has caused the difference?", "What help are you receiving at Butler in your religious life?"

The Y.M.C.A. at the invitation of campus organizations has arranged for practical and sincere men from the city to meet with them for informal discussion in fraternity houses and elsewhere. Questions discussed have included: "What can a college man believe now about God?" "War and propaganda." "Petting or comradeship." "What can prayer accomplish?" "What is the Church for?" "My income and my social responsibility."

Several outstanding speakers who were obtained for Butler chapel programs by the Y.M.C.A. included the presidents of two of the best Chinese universities, Dr. Woo of Nanking and Dr. Liu of Shanghai, as well as "Dad" Elliott, Harry White and Arthur Rugh of the Y.M.C.A. National Council.

Y. W. C. A.

An opportunity for organization work is provided by the Young Women's Christian Association for every woman who is interested in the enrichment of life. This is provided through its program of social meetings and committee work.

Activities of the nine committees and the cabinet of Y. W. C. A. began last summer when the freshman committee gave a series of teas for prospective Butler students. On registration day members of the cabinet aided women students in matriculating.

Among the programs and entertainments held throughout the year were the Christmas meeting at which members of the Women's Faculty Club were guests and a Martha Washington tea in honor of the students in the College of Education. Dean Albert Bailey of the Evening and Extension Division addressed the May meeting given in honor of the Mothers' Clubs of the University; an informal tea followed the address.

Other programs were planned by the various committees. Dr. Percy Julian of DePauw University spoke at the interracial meeting in April. The world fellowship committee presented a pageant of national costumes and folk dances for an Armistice Day program. A discussion of child labor was conducted by the Industrial Committee, March 28.

Proceeds from the two Geneva Stunts given one each semester by sororities provided funds for sending delegates to the Lake Geneva Y. W. C. A. Conference. The fall winner of stunts was Kappa Alpha Theta and the spring winner Alpha Chi Omega. Cabinet members representing Butler at the conference in 1933 were Mary Bohnstadt, Frances Stalker, Ruth Hallstein, and Martha Jane McMasters.

The social service committee sponsored the annual Doll Show at Christmas time. A silver loving cup was given to B. I. A. for the best dressed doll. Proceeds from the sale of dolls were used to dress two children, and unsold dolls were given to the children at the City Hospital.

Cabinet training conferences held during the year at Danville Central Normal School and at Purdue and Indiana Universities were attended by members of the Butler Y. W. C. A.

In the professional sports world Indianapolis ranks without a peer in its annual five-hundred mile race run at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway on May 30. Visitors from all over the world attend it and drivers establish new records on its bricks.

Butler is fortunate in possessing one of the finest fieldhouses in the middle west. The university stadium, though not yet completed and rarely filled to its huge capacity, is a fitting match for the proportions of the fieldhouse.

ATHLETICS

PAUL D. HINKLE,
Athletic Director

Athletic Director Paul Daniel Hinkle was born in that hotbed of Indiana basketball, Logansport, just at the turn of the century. The head of the Hinkle family was a school teacher, and was transferred about the country often, as frequently happened to school teachers in those days.

When "little Paul" was nine years old, the family moved from Elgin, Illinois, to Chicago. It was at Calumet high school in the Windy city that Hink began what proved to be the foundation of his career—the playing of basketball at school and at a public gym.

In 1916 he enrolled at the University of Chicago, and reported for hardwood practice under Pat Page, then coach of the Maroon squad. It was on a trip with the Chicago team that he acquired the nickname of Tony.

The team was vittlin' up in a cafeteria just before a game, and the waiter talked young Hinkle, who was then a little green about training rules, into ordering a bale or so of spaghetti. As he was falling to, Coach Page bore down upon him with irate criticism flowing freely from his lips. Someone cast the jibe of "Tony" and it has stuck with him ever since.

In 1920 Tony led the Maroon five to the championship of the Western conference, and was picked as a guard on the All-Western conference team. He was also an outstanding member of the baseball and football teams. That same year he accompanied the diamond squad on a tour of Japan.

At the time of his graduation, Hinkle was known as the most finished basketball player ever to have worn a Maroon uniform. Perfect form and natural ability combined with a love of the game worked to make him a great player.

After his graduation, Hinkle served as freshman coach and assistant to Coach A. A. Stagg for more than a year. In 1921 he came to Butler as assistant football and basketball coach, and to take over the reins of the baseball team. Page was then director of athletics.

Since that time he has gained ever-increasing recognition for his basketball teams, and has been head basketball coach since the 1926-27 hardwood season. In the past eight years, the Bulldog cagers have piled up an imposing record of 129 victories with only 33 losses, playing schedules that included the most outstanding teams in the country. The record follows:

COACH MACKEY

FRANKLIN 16, BUTLER 2

In the first game of the season, September 23, the Franklin Grizzlies trounced the Bulldogs 16 to 2, led by McCarthy and Belden, Franklin halfbacks.

McCarthy opened up in the first half with a field goal from the thirty-yard line. From then until the last quarter the Bulldogs displayed considerable power.

McCarthy snagged a pass in the fourth period and crossed the Blue and White goal line for the first touchdown. Rummell kicked the point. At this juncture, Paul Moore broke through after a Franklin punt had been blocked and pulled down the Grizzly ball carrier to give the Mackeymen their only score.

Shortly after, Belden plunged through the Butler line and raced seventy yards for the final marker.

BUTLER 19, BALL STATE 2

On September 29 the Blue and White gridders downed the Ball State team 19 to 2. Ray furnished the scoring spark when he skirted left-end for a 47-yard touchdown in the initial period.

Several futile scoring threats were made by both teams in the next period. In the third quarter Weger ran around end for the second touchdown of the evening, and J. Stewart's kick was good.

In the last period, Weger's punt was blocked, resulting in the lone Muncie score, but Weger returned the next kick 45 yards, and a penalty transferred it to the one-yard line. J. Stewart plunged over and kicked successfully.

DRAKE 26, BUTLER 6

On October 6 the Drake gridders were hosts to the Butler outfit, and handed them a 26 to 6 lacing before a large crowd.

A steady march put the ball in position for Warren, Drake fullback, to plunge over. The kick was good. A few plays after Butler punted, Smith caught a pass from Potts and outran the entire Butler team for the second marker of the evening. The kick went astray.

Batts then blocked a punt which resulted, two plays later, in putting the ball within the Drake 10-yard line, but the opportunity was lost.

The next Drake score came after an intercepted pass, which put the ball in a position for Wieland, Drake back, to plunge over.

Throughout the third quarter the Bulldogs bucked the Des Moines outfit's substitutes, but when the regulars were reinserted in the fourth, they again scored, making the count 26 to 0.

Ray ran around end after receiving a lateral pass and climaxed a late but successful aerial attack by crossing the Drake goal line for the only marker gained by the visitors.

BUTLER 24, EVANSVILLE 6

On October 13 the Bulldogs drubbed the Evansville Purple Aces 24 to 6, in a hard fought game in which the Butler team clicked to perfection.

The first Butler score came after Bob Stewart and Ray had advanced the ball to the one-yard line, where Jim Stewart plunged over. His kick was wide.

In the second quarter Bob Stewart scooped up a pass that bounced out of the hands of Hostetter, Purple Ace halfback, and was barely brought down on the 10-yard line. Weger then received a lateral and crossed the goal line around right end.

The Evansville score came four plays later when Graham, flashy Purple Ace halfback, raced around end on a criss-cross play for 26 yards. The kick was unsuccessful.

The last two scores were made by Weger and Ray. Weger crossed the goal line on an end run after a pass from Jim to Bob Stewart which netted 28 yards. Ray broke through the Purple line and secondary defence to wind up the evening's scoring.

WABASH 12, BUTLER 0

Two breaks, one the result of a bad punt by Weger and the other of an 80-yard run behind perfect interference, cost the Bulldogs the homecoming game with the Little Giants from Wabash on October 21.

In the first quarter Luzar, Wabash fullback, took the ball on the Butler 15-yard line and ran through right tackle, for the first score.

The other touchdown came in the last quarter when Snyder, Wabash quarterback, took the ball and raced 80 yards down the field behind flawless interference.

BUTLER 7, CINCINNATI 34

On October 28 the Bulldogs took a severe beating from the Cincinnati University eleven on the Buckeye's home field. The score was 35 to 7. Several Butler players sustained injuries that hampered the team for the remainder of the season.

Cincy scored in nine plays after the game began, when Nolting, Buckeye halfback, climaxed a 46-yard drive with a plunge over the last stripe. Soon after the second period started Schwarburg, also at halfback, took a Butler punt on the Blue's 40-yard line for a touchdown.

Karl Kaemmerle, playing fullback for the Buckeyes, scored three touchdowns on plunges through the center of Butler's line. From the first part of the second quarter until the fourth, substitutes played for Cincy.

The only Butler score came in the second quarter, following a 70-yard drive against the Cincinnati second-stringers. Weger skirted left end for the final 14 yards. Jim Stewart kicked the point.

VALPARAISO 20, BUTLER 7

On November 4 the Bulldogs bowed to the Valparaiso Uhlans, 20 to 7. The Butler score came in the first five minutes of the game after Carr and Weger had made long gains to put the ball on the six-inch line where Jim Stewart plunged over and afterwards kicked successfully.

From then until the last quarter both teams displayed good defensive football. In the last period the Bulldogs, gave way before a powerful and persistent battering at their line, and three touchdowns were put over by the Uhlans.

Bauer skirted four yards around end for the first Valpo score. Smatlak kicked the point. Rucinski, Valpo halfback, intercepted a pass which resulted in Smatlak crossing the goal line a few plays later for the second score for the visitors. Smatlak kicked successfully again.

Rucinski recovered Ray's fumble in midfield and Kowalski dived over from the two-yard line several plays later.

WASHINGTON 36, BUTLER 12

The season was brought to a close when the Bulldogs journeyed to St. Louis on November 11 and dropped a 36 to 12 decision to the Washington Bears.

The Washington scores came after a blocked punt, a pass, an intercepted pass, a fake punt play, and a long drive down the field late in the game. Hafeli, Brown, Hobbs, Morris, and Wolf made the Bear touchdowns, with Hafeli kicking four points. In the fourth quarter Weger fumbled in his end zone and was forced to fall on the ball to give Washington its other two points.

Butler scored in the third and fourth periods. In the third, Weger caught a lateral pass and dashed over the last stripe to climax a length of the field drive.

Moore intercepted a Washington pass in the fourth and juggled the ball around in his arms for a few yards, and then tucked it under his arm and dashed over the enemy goal line.

played with other schools, decisive victories were registered over both, even though comparative scores do not indicate a great difference between the Bullpups and their opponents.

The season opened with a 12 to 0 win over the Ball State rhinies on the Muncie school's home gridiron.

Coach Heddon's team scored all 12 of its points in the first five minutes of the game. The first touchdown came when Ed Trott, playing at guard, broke through the heavy Ball State freshman line and snagged a forward pass to run more than 30 yards for the score.

In the next few minutes O'Connor, frosh wingman, broke loose and caught a pass from Stout to run 30 yards and close the scoring for the day.

From then until the end of the contest the Blue and White played a defensive game, holding the Ball State team 40 yards or more away from its goal line throughout.

The next week the Wabash freshmen journeyed from Crawfordsville and dropped a thrilling 6 to 0 contest to the Bullpups on a cold, wind-swept field.

hammered the Bullpup line, Rickie Marbarger doing most of the ball carrying for the Cavemen.

The defensive play of Trott and Arvilla protected the Heddonmen's territory against these thrusts, and hard-fighting offense led by the able ball carrying of Breen almost lengthened the gap many times.

Several candidates for freshman honors will, in all probability, be outstanding contenders for first string varsity positions next fall.

Among those who show the most promise for the coming season are Trott and Swift at the guard posts, Wulle, Costas, and Mueller in the backfield, and O'Connor for one of the wing assignments.

COACH HINKLE

BUTLER 31, INDIANA CENTRAL 32

On December 9 the Indiana Central five took advantage of the Hinklemen's first game jinx to down them 32 to 31 in a well-played contest on the fieldhouse floor.

McCuen and Troup, Central reserves, provided the winning buckets for the visitors in the closing minutes of the game.

The Bulldogs started out playing a deliberate game and got off to a first half lead of 20 to 15, which they increased to 25 to 15 in the opening minutes of the second period.

Then, aided by the brilliant ball handling of "Big" Dave DeJernett, McCuen made three quick baskets and Byers and Troup each made one to give the Southsiders a one-point lead with the score 30 to 29 less than two minutes left to play.

DeJernett pivoted to account for two more points, and Davis boosted the Butler score to 31 points just as the gun cracked.

Indiana Central hit 15 of a total of 43 attempts from the field, while the Blue connected for only 12 of 55 tries. DeJernett was the key man of his team, retrieving the ball from the backboard to prevent follow shots by the Bulldogs, and setting up his teammates for many open shots.

BUTLER 34, FRANKLIN 22

Control of the tip and retrieving the ball off the backboard proved the Bulldogs' margin of victory against the Franklin Grizzlies on December 16. The score was 34 to 22.

Demmary missed three chances at the free throw line before the scoring was opened with a charity toss by Moser. Irvin followed with a field goal to put the Grizzlies in a three-point lead.

After many tries had been missed, the Blue and White team began to hit, and goals by Davis and Parrish put their team one point to the good.

The visitors did not threaten from then on. The half ended with Butler on the long end of a 16 to 9 lead. Despite the ragged playing of both teams, only thirteen fouls were called, four of them putting Miller, Franklin center, out of the contest.

Baird made ten of the Bulldog points, and Buchanan accounted for six of his team's tallies. The visitors were playing without the services of Captain Anderson, stellar defense man on the Franklin outfit.

BUTLER 35, PITTSBURGH 24

On December 18 the Bulldogs showed their best offense to that date when they defeated the Pittsburgh Panthers 35 to 24 in a fast contest in the fieldhouse.

Coach Carlson of Pitt started a combination that included four reserves, but midway in the first half he inserted his regulars with Butler leading, 11 to 9.

The Hinklemen held the new players scoreless for the remainder of the period, and were out in front 23 to 9 when the second half got under way.

Pitt rallied at this juncture and scored eight points before Baird dropped in the Bulldogs' first counter of the second session.

Then Parrish and Reissner scored, Baird hit again, and Davis dribbled the length of the floor to widen the gap.

Coach Hinkle substituted his Sophomores with the score standing at 32 to 22, and the Bulldogs resorted to a slow deliberate style that repelled the fast-passing attack launched by the visitors.

Davis made 10 of his team's points, and Baird 9. Cribbs was high-point man for the Panthers with 9, but went out on personals in the second period.

BUTLER 34, PURDUE 37

On December 23 the Blue and White journeyed to Lafayette and dropped a close encounter to the Purdue five, 34 to 37.

The Bulldogs started out strong, gaining a 13 to 5 lead in seven minutes on the Boilermaker combination, which included three reserves.

Coach Lambert then inserted Eddy, Cottom, and Fehring, who speeded up the game with fast passing, and as the rest period neared, the count was knotted at 17 to 17. Shaver then fired a barrage of long shots that resulted in the half ending with Purdue in a 26 to 21 lead.

In the second period, hits by Reissner, Davis, and Baird, and a free throw by Parrish, as against a lone basket by Cottom, tied the count at 28 to 28.

Brilliant pass work by Eddy and Fehring boosted the Purdue total to 34, and a rushing style of offense by the Bulldogs failed to close the gap, although three attempts by Reissner dipped into the loop but rolled out.

The count was 37 to 32 for five minutes, when a Butler goal closed the scoring for the evening. Reissner was highpoint man of the game with 12 points. Eddy and Fehring each made eight.

BUTLER 27, WISCONSIN 37

On December 30 the Hinklemen entrained for Madison, Wisconsin where they played a ragged game to go down before the Badgers, 37 to 27.

The Blue gained a 5 to 1 lead, but the tide soon turned, and the Wisconsin five scored 18 points before the Bulldogs were again able to find the loop.

A short spurt failed to do much good, and the half ended 21 to 10 in favor of Coach "Doc" Meanwell's team. Substitutes were inserted into the Badger lineup in the second period, but the Bulldogs were having an off night and could not hit even against the less experienced players.

Davis led his team's offense with 8 points and Preboski scored 10 points for the Badgers.

BUTLER 24, INDIANA STATE 20

On January 6 the Bulldogs avenged a 19 point loss to Indiana State the season before, downing the Sycamores by a score of 24 to 20 on the fieldhouse floor.

The game was doubtful until the last, when Hinkle inserted three sophomores, Batts, Armstrong, and Jones, into the lineup to score five points and hold the tired Indiana State team to the lesser margin on the scoreboard.

Both teams missed many attempts in the first half, which ended 11 to 9 in favor of the Bulldogs. Butler controlled the ball for the major portion of the game.

Dowden of Indiana State evened the count early in the second half, but Baird retaliated to again give the Bulldogs the upper hand. At this point Osborne and Miklozek scored for the Sycamores, and the latter made good on a free throw to put the visitors three points to the good with ten minutes to play.

It was at this juncture that the sophomores entered the game, and

1 9 → 4

Jones and Baird accounted for two baskets apiece to put the Bulldogs in the lead that resulted in the winning margin. Under the basket, work by Armstrong and Batts kept the Sycamores behind for the remainder of the contest.

BUTLER 42, WASHINGTON 26

On January 10 the Bulldogs opened their Missouri valley conference series with a 42 to 26 victory over the Washington Bears in the fieldhouse.

The team displayed an improved brand of basketball, with Demmary's pass work contributing largely to the victory. Baird and Reissner were also outstanding.

The Washington club threatened shortly after the second half started, closing the gap to within two points of the Bulldogs, but Parrish and Baird opened up to pull the game out of the fire.

The Blue stole the ball many times from the Bears before they had time to work in a shot. Reserves played a great deal of the time during the second half, running up the score until the gun sounded.

Baird led the scoring with 11 points, followed closely by Davis, who connected for 10. Coach Hinkle was enabled to tryout many new plays and players in this contest.

NOTRE DAME 37, BUTLER 17

On January 13 the Irish broke a long string of close games with the Bulldogs when they swamped them on the Notre Dame floor, 37 to 17. The Hinklemen displayed their poorest team play of the season in this game.

The Irish took an early six-point lead and were never headed, lengthening the gap to eight points at the half. A capacity crowd witnessed the contest.

The situation took on a hopeful aspect early in the second half when Davis was fouled while making a fieldgoal, his free throw bringing the Bulldogs to within five points of the Irish. Ragged defensive work by the Hinklemen and remarkable basket-shooting by the Irish, pulled the game out of danger for Notre Dame.

Krause, captain of the South Bend five, scored 10 of his team's 16 points in the first half. Ireland and Peters, sophomores on Koegan's team, put the game on ice in the last five minutes, hitting for ten points between them.

Before this game the Butler-Notre Dame series stood at ten apiece, with the average difference in the game scores less than two points.

BUTLER 35, FRANKLIN 27

On January 16 the Bulldogs journeyed to Franklin and defeated the Grizzlies 35 to 27. Although the game was hotly contested, it was never in doubt except shortly after the intermission.

Then Miller and Polson led a Franklin rally that brought their team to within three points of the Bulldogs, but quick scoring by the Blue widened the gap.

The Blue took an early lead with Demmary, Parrish, and Baird accounting for the balance of the scoring. The score was 15 to 3 with eight minutes to go in the initial half, which ended 21 to 11 in favor of the Bulldogs.

Armstrong and Jones entered the game near the end of the first half and also near the end of the game. Demmary hit the loop for 12 points to be high-point man for the evening. A capacity crowd witnessed the contest, including a number of Butler fans and students.

BUTLER 48, CREIGHTON 30

On January 20 the Bulldogs swamped the Creighton Bluejays 48 to 30 at the fieldhouse. The victory gave Butler an undisputed lead in the valley conference race.

The game was fairly even during the first half, with the Bulldogs stealing the tip which Schmidt, six-foot seven and one-half inch Creighton center, controlled. Shortly after the rest period the visitors were within one point of the Hinklemen, but Davis started a scoring spree which garnered him a total of 17 points to pull the Bulldogs out of the danger zone.

Lomax was the spark of the Bluejay offense, although he was bottled up in the second half and failed to score in that period. Demmary guarded Schmidt, Creighton pivot man, holding him to three points, but went out on personal fouls in the second half.

Armstrong took his place in the lineup and held the big center scoreless for the remainder of the tilt, tallying six points for the Bulldogs. Batts scored ten points to be second in the scoring list.

BUTLER 35, WABASH 32

On January 27 the Bulldogs came through in the last two minutes with three free throws to down the Wabash five 35 to 32 before nearly 5,000 fans, many of whom were from the Crawfordsville institution.

Starting with a slow and deliberate offense, free throws by Crisler and a fieldgoal by Rovenstine put the Little Giants ahead 4 to 0. Batts then hit for two points, but Mason came back with two short shots to draw away again.

After Parrish and Joyce had each counted for baskets, Demmary made nve consecutive points, and shots by Baird and Davis put the Blue ahead for the first time during the contest at 18 to 13.

The visitors then counted three times in quick succession and the half closed with Wabash in a 19 to 18 lead.

The Hinklemen again took command in the opening minutes of the second half on goals by Baird, Davis, and Reissner, and changed styles of play developed the game into a fast-rushing contest on the part of both fives.

Led by Berns, Crisler, Joyce, and Mason the Butler lead was cut to one point, but Baird made good a short shot to put the Bulldogs three points to the good.

After Mason had hit a fieldgoal and Armstrong a free throw, Crisler tied the count at 32 to 32 with five minutes to go. Wild playing by both teams was in evidence for the next three minutes, with no scoring.

Wabash then resorted to rough tactics to stop the Bulldogs' rushes, and free throws by Jones, Batts, and Demmary settled the issue. Baird led the winners with 13 points.

BUTLER 36, GRINNELL 24

On February 2 the Bulldogs were hosts to the Grinnell Pioneers, and took their measure 36 to 24 in a game which was never in much doubt.

The Blue and White ran up a 13 to 2 lead at the outset. Mason, Pioneer forward, then staged a one-man rally with four field goals from mid-court, and after sporadic scoring by both teams, the half ended with the Bulldogs enjoying a 19 to 13 lead.

Grinnell's only bid for the lead came when the visiting team drew to within three points of the Hinklemen with only seven minutes left to play. Aside from this, there was a difference of six or eight points in the score all the way. The Grinnell threat was immediately stemmed by a barrage of Bulldog baskets.

Davis led the winners with 10 points and Mason made 8 for the Pioneers. Baird made 9 points and Demmary 8.

BUTLER 28, DRAKE 18

In the second of a four-game western invasion an offensive attack in the last ten minutes enabled the Bulldogs to down the Drake netters by a score of 28 to 18.

Drake launched a shooting attack that put them on the long end of a 17 to 11 lead shortly after the second half began. The visiting Hinklemen then started a scoring attack led by Davis and Baird that turned the tide and gave them victory. Good defensive work that held their hosts to one point during the rally contributed strongly to the success of the winners.

This game enabled the Bulldogs to maintain their lead in the Missouri valley conference race. Davis led the winners with 11 points, and Baird was second with eight. Smith, Drake forward, scored seven points to head his team's offensive.

BUTLER 33, CREIGHTON 32

Following a one-day rest on their outstate campaign, the Bulldogs engaged the big Creighton five on February 5, to score a 33 to 32 win in an overtime contest.

The visitors led during the first period and most of the second, but the Westerners rallied toward the close of the game and were behind 30 to 29 when the gun sounded. Just before the gun, a Butler player fouled Schmidt, towering Creighton center, who coolly stepped up to the foul line and scored the point that extended the contest into an extra five minutes.

In the overtime period Baird opened the scoring with a field goal for the Bulldogs, but Schmidt was again equal to the occasion and retaliated to tie the score at 32 to 32. With only seconds left to play Davis was fouled and his free throw put the Bulldogs across for the winning point.

Baird led the winners with 12 points, and Batts was second in the scoring column with 7. Engelbretsen made 9 points for the losers, and Schmidt followed with 8.

BUTLER 24, GRINNELL 26

On February 6, exhausted from the preceding night's gruelling fray, the Bulldogs dropped the fourth and last game of their out-of-state Missouri valley campaign to Grinnell, 26 to 24, to give the Pioneers credit for the major upset in the conference.

For almost the entire game both teams played on even terms, holding each other down to low scores. The first half ended with the score tied at 11 to 11. In the second period the Westerners tightened their defense and repulsed the Bulldogs' victory bid.

The margin of victory proved to be free throws, with the Grinnell men making eight of the 13 free throws attempted by them, while the Hinklemen made only four of their eight tries from the charity stripe.

However, the Bulldogs outscored Grinnell from the field 10 baskets to 9. Batts and Jones led the losers' offense with 10 and 7 points respectively. Mason made 7 points for the winners, and Santi hit the basket for 6.

BUTLER 38, OKLAHOMA 26

On February 10 Oklahoma invaded the fieldhouse and dropped a 38 to 26 decision to the Blue and White in a game which was never in doubt after the first few minutes.

The Bulldogs started out strong and gained a 7 to 0 lead on baskets by Batts, Demmary, and Reissner, and a free throw by Baird. Strickland then sank three field goals in quick succession to keep the visitors in the running, but the Bulldogs again pulled away.

The half ended with the Cowboys on the short end of an 18 to 10 score. Baird was the spark of the Bulldogs' offense with a total of 12 points. Jack Everly, who entered the game late in the second period, flashed some brilliant dribbling and under-the-basket play to score three buckets.

Strickland, flashy guard on the Southern team, scored 10 points. His teammate Simms, playing at forward, made 6. Buddy Wade, the speedy little forward who was second in the Missouri valley conference scoring tally last year, was held to 4 points.

BUTLER 49, OKLAHOMA 26

On the Monday following their Saturday night win over the Oklahoma Aggies five, the Bulldogs repeated the victory, flashing some of their best offense of the year.

The score was 49 to 26, with the Hinklemen making good on 20 of their 47 tries from the field. The Cowboys made only 10 of their 54 tries.

Batts scored five points at the outset to give the Blue a 5 to 0 lead. Dobson then hit the loop for the visitors, but baskets by Parrish, Demmary, and Baird increased the lead to 11 to 2.

The gap was gradually decreased with Collins, Oklahoma forward, leading his team's rally with two baskets and two free throws. With the half almost up and Butler leading 18 to 15, Jones entered the game and accounted for five points in quick time.

Reissner also scored from the field, and Baird made good a charity toss to give the Blue a 26 to 15 lead at half-time.

In the second half the reserves took over the situation and quickly ran the score up to 41 to 20. They were sent into the game with instructions to work the ball and just hold the lead. This was the highest score made by the Hinklemen during the past season.

BUTLER 24, NOTRE DAME 34

On February 24 the Irish came down from South Bend and rapped the Bulldogs for the second time in the season. The score was 34 to 24.

The game was played on even terms until the last eight minutes. The Hinklemen concentrated on Ed Krause, star pivot man on Koegan's club, and as a result, Johnny Ford, former Cathedral star, got away for eight points.

In the first half the lead changed hands four times, the score was tied three times, and there was never more than three points difference in the two scores. Notre Dame led 18 to 15 at the intermission.

Roscoe Batts played one of his best games of the year against the Irish, scoring 11 of his team's 15 points in the first half. Toy Jones also played bang-up ball, twice dribbling through the entire Irish defense for under-the-basket goals.

Soon after the second period got under way, Ford led a drive with three fieldgoals that put his team on the long end of a 27 to 20 score, and from then on the visitors coasted.

The Hinklemen's last points came on free throws by Batts and Jones and a long shot by Baird. Krause, O'Kane, and Crowe provided the points that boosted Notre Dame's score from 27 to 34.

Batts led the scorers for the evening with 12 points. Jones made 5 for the losers. Ford contributed 8 of his team's points, while Krause and Crowe each scored 7.

BUTLER 39, DRAKE 27

On February 26 the Drake netters invaded the fieldhouse and dropped a 39 to 27 decision to the Bulldogs in a game closely contested in the first half, in which the visitors' fast passing attack kept them within striking distance in this period.

Demmary opened the scoring, and Abram broke the ice for his team with a free throw, followed by an under-the-basket goal by Parrish and charity tosses by Baird and Curry.

Parrish, Reissner, and Demmary then found the range and the Hinklemen's lead was run up to 16 to 5, but Swan, Curry, and McCloud found the loop to close the gap and keep Drake in the running.

After Demmary and McCloud had each scored two counters from out on the floor, Swan scored from underneath and Carlson sank a pair of long ones to close the gap to one point. The half ended 21 to 20 with the Bulldogs in the lead.

In the second half the visitors' brilliant passing attack was smothered by an initial flurry of Bulldog baskets, the count being boosted to 29 to 21 in the first few minutes of this period, and from then on Drake failed to threaten.

Sophomores played a large part of the second half, and ran up the count with under-the-basket and long-range shots.

BUTLER 24, WABASH 31

On February 28 the Bulldogs went down to Crawfordsville and dropped a 31 to 24 contest to a revenge-hungry Little Giant five.

Wabash gained what appeared to be a harmless 5 to 0 lead on goals by Crisler and Berns and a free throw by Mason before Demmary broke the ice for the Blue with a free throw.

The Cavemen continued their hot streak, during which they made good on five of their first seven tries from the field, and gained a 17 to 4 lead before the half was over. Wabash led at the intermission, 18 to 6.

The Bulldogs came back after the rest period and settled down to decrease the lead by deliberate offensive tactics. With 15 minutes of the last half gone the lead had been cut down to five points three times, but each time the Cavemen made the next bucket to draw away again.

Baird made 8 of his team's points, and Armstrong came next with 5. Crisler scored 11 points for the Little Giants, and his teammate, C. Mason, tallied 10.

BUTLER 53, WASHINGTON 47

The Hinklemen wound up the season March 3 with a trip to St. Louis where they downed Washington in a 100-point game in which a spurt in the last five minutes of play was necessary for the victory.

The Bulldogs led all the way through the first half, and were ahead in the second for the first fifteen minutes when a rally headed by Vic Kern, Captain of the Washington five, brought his team even with the visitors at 40 to 40.

Then Mautz hit the loop to put Washington two points ahead, and things looked dark until Demmary and Reissner got hot and provided the winning punch that put the Bulldogs on the long end of a 53 to 47 score.

Reissner and Demmary each accounted for 12 points. Kern, who had been on the bench for several games due to a scoring slump, hit the bucket for 18 points, and his teammate Mautz made 11.

Freshman Basketball

The Freshman basketball team met four outside opponents during the 1933-34 season, which ended with the Blue and White rhinies on the lower end of a three to one percentage for the season.

The season opened with a 34 to 22 loss to the Indiana Central reserves on the rhinies' home court.

Gerkenmeyer and Trulock starred for the frosh, accounting for six points apiece. Trulock held Troup, Central guard, to two buckets.

The second contest resulted in a 28 to 19 loss to the Indiana State freshmen on the Sycamores' home court. State's margin of victory came when the visitors committed ten fouls in the first five minutes of play, nine of which were converted, making the score 10 to 2.

O'Connor was high point man for the Heddonmen with a total of 8 points.

The rhinies journeyed to Crawfordsville on February 28 and trounced the Little Giant freshmen 30 to 13.

Hackman starred for the winners with nine points. Trulock scored six. Broaderick played a good defensive game, being instrumental in holding the Cavemen freshmen to such a low score.

A return game was carded with the Indiana State freshmen, and they repeated with a 27 to 19 victory. Quackenbush, Sycamore freshmen forward, accounted for 19 of his team's points.

O'Connor scored eight points for the Blue rhinies, giving him a total of 22 points for the three games in which he played, and high point honors for the season. Trulock was second with 16 points.

There are several players who will be "in there" with a punch when practice starts for what is likely to prove an even more gruelling schedule than that of last year.

At least one berth on the first five will be open, and of the frosh who seem most likely to fill it, Gerkenmeyer had shown the best all-round ability in the past. Others who are pointing for a berth on the squad are Trulock, Hackman, Barnhorst, Broaderick, and O'Connor.

COACH PHILLIPS

Coach Phillips inaugurated Butler's 1934 track season on February 3 when he took Ray Sears to New York and entered him in the colorful Millrose games at Madison Square Garden.

Sears ran in the two-mile event and finished second to John W. Follows of the New York A.C., who turned in the fastest time for this distance ever run by an American.

On February 10 the Blue thinsies dropped a 65 to 30 decision to Michigan Normal in a meet in which Sears and Mecum both set records for dual meets between the two schools.

Sears' record was 4:26.4 in the mile run and Mecum set a new mark in the shot-put with a heave of 45 feet 3 inches. Normal captured firsts in all the other events.

On February 17 the Bulldogs journeyed to Champaign, Illinois, where they were defeated by the University of Illinois 79 2-3 to 151-3.

Bradford eked out a third in the 60-yard dash and Davis was in a three-way tie for second place in the pole vault, which was won at 12 feet.

Welch went over the bar at 6 feet to capture a tie for first place in the high jump, and Mecum heaved the shot far enough to gain a second.

Bradford also scored a third in the 75-yard low hurdles. Sears closed the scoring for the day for Butler when he eased into first place in the two-mile run.

The Western State Teachers College aggregation came through in the mile relay, the final event on the card, to edge out the Phillpsmen 50 to 45 on February 23 at the fieldhouse.

The Bulldogs accounted for six first places and the Hilltoppers five. Sears won the half-mile, mile and two-mile runs to star in the meet.

Bradford copped a first in the 50-yard high hurdles and a third in the 50-yard dash and low hurdles, Zahn a third in the mile, and Mecum and Ratti were first and third respectively in the shot-put.

Davis tied with his teammate Ewing for first in the pole vault at 11 feet 9 inches. Zahn copped a second in the half-mile run, and Welch gathered in third place in the high jump.

On February 28 the Boilermakers invaded the field-house and scored a 56½ to 38½ win over the Bulldogs in a meet which brought forth four new fieldhouse records.

Sears established records in both the mile and two-mile events. He clipped off the mile in the fast time of 4:14.5 and coasted to an easy victory over Popejoy of Purdue in the two-mile in 9:26.8.

Sandbach of Purdue set the other two records when he stepped off the 50-yard low hurdles in 5.9 and the highs in 6.4.

Other Butler points were garnered by Zahn in the mile, Bradford in the 50-yard high and low hurdles, Carr in the quarter-mile, Mecum in the shot-put, Zahn in the half-mile run, Baker in the two-mile run, Welch and Ewing in the high jump, and Davis in the pole vault.

Sears came to the fore again one week later and captured the Missouri Valley conference indoor one and two-mile titles, setting Drake University fieldhouse records in both events. His time for the mile was 4:24.6 and 9:39.7 for the longer event. Drake won the Valley championship. Sears was high point man of the meet.

On March 10 Notre Dame was again host for the Central Inter-collegiate conference track meet, in which Butler took seventh place by virtue of Sears' first place in the mile run. His time was 4:21, and is a meet record.

On March 17 Coach Phillips divided his team and sent Sears to compete in the K. of C. games in New York and the best of those remaining journeyed to Chicago for the Armour Tech relays.

It was at the Madison Square Garden meet that Sears set the new native American record of 9:7.4 in the two-mile run, clipping a full second off the 11-year-old record of Joie Ray.

On March 24 the Bulldogs closed the indoor season with the second annual Butler relays, in which they pulled down a first in the College Medley relay and a second in the mile run.

The relay team, composed of Carr, Lowther, Zahn, and Sears, came home in 10:55, several yards ahead of the Kansas State Teachers college team of Pittsburg, Kansas. Sears took second place in the mile run, won by Cunningham.

The University of Michigan captured Indiana's relay crown and Kansas shaded Indiana for second place in the meet. Butler and Western State tied for eighth place with 8 points apiece.

Outdoor

The outdoor track season was opened on April 7 with a dual meet with Central Normal, in which the Bulldogs gained an easy 100 to 31 victory.

The Blue won firsts in all events but the javelin throw, and scored slams in the quarter, half, mile, and two-mile runs to account for the topheavy score.

Bradford led his team's scoring with first places in all the four events in which he participated, and in addition ran the anchor position on the half-mile relay team. Sears won both the one and two-mile runs, and set a track record of 9:22 in the latter event.

On April 14 the Bulldogs were hosts to the Indiana State track squad and showed up even better than on the preceding week, winning by a score of 107 to 23.

Slams were registered against the Sycamores in the shot-put and quarter-mile events, and Sears garnered first places in the half, mile, and two-mile runs.

Addison Coddington won the javelin throw when he sailed the spear 152 feet 9 inches. Coddington was a "dark horse" in the event, not having been out for the team this season, and having no previous practice.

On April 21 the squad was again divided, with the relay team trekking to the Kansas relays, where Sears won the 15,500-meter run, with Zahn finishing in fourth place.

The remainder of the squad went down to Madison and handed the Hanover thinlies a 71 to 59 defeat.

Bradford took away high meet honors with three firsts and a second for 18 points. Hay of Hanover was second with 16. The Blue registered a clean sweep in the shot-put and Hanover reciprocated in the half-mile run.

On April 28 the relay team again turned westward and competed in the Drake relays silver anniversary meet. In the individual events Sears easily took first in the two-mile.

On the same date the rest of the squad was host to the visiting Earlham trackmen, and went down before them to a 69 to 62 defeat.

The remainder of the schedule is as follows: Drake relays, April 27 and 28; Earlham, April 28; Ball State, May 5; Indiana Central, May 9; Miami, May 12; Missouri Valley conference outdoor meet, May 18 and 19; Little State meet, May 19; State meet, May 26; Central Intercollegiates, June 2, and the National Intercollegiates, June 23.

Freshman Track

The frosh cinder path aspirants opened their season with an indoor meet with the Varsity in which they were defeated 56 to 39. The Varsity's margin of victory was realized with firsts in nine of the eleven events.

The rhinies scored seconds and thirds in eight events. Griffin beat out Leary and Baker to come in first in the two-mile run, and Holmes downed Bradford and Bob Stewart for a first in the high hurdles.

The Varsity scored slams in the discus and shot-put events, and Coddington beat out Mueller in the javelin throw.

Gerkenmeyer tied Welch in the high jump with a leap of 6 feet 1 inch, and Hall eked out a second in the quarter-mile, losing to Craig. Ayres was third for the freshmen.

The freshmen outdoor card opened with another meet with the Varsity on April 20. The Varsity won again, by a score of 67 to 59.

Kline starred for the first-year men with firsts in the 100-yard dash and the broad jump. Stout won over Davis in the pole vault, clearing the bar at 10 feet 7 inches, after Davis had retired to the showers.

Hall scored a first in the 220-yard dash for the Frosh, and Richardson did likewise in the half, in 2 minutes and 3 seconds. Griffin came in first in the two-mile, and second in the mile.

Next year the Varsity will be without the services of Bradford, Lowther, and Mecum. Several Frosh runners are well qualified to fill their positions, among whom Holmes, Kline, Griffin, and Gerkenmeyer are outstanding.

The Varsity is notably lacking in dash material this season, and Kline should be able to fill this gap next year. From all reports, Holmes will be able to replace Ed Bradford in the hurdle events.

Gerkenmeyer can go over the bar at six feet right along with Welch, and Griffin's distance running should make things easier for Ray Sears next year.

CROSS COUNTRY SQUAD

Richard Lowther, Frederick Ryker, Raymond Sears, Francis Doudican and Perry Zahn.

Cross Country

Coach Phillips' cross country team engaged in a seven meet schedule last fall, five of which were dual contests. In the latter group the Blue Harriers were conquered by Michigan State, Indiana University, Illinois Normal, and twice by Ball State.

Two meets of both national and sectional scope were entered, in both of which Ray Sears took first places, decisively defeating runners of national and Olympic fame.

Sears captured the National A. A. U. cross country crown at Washington Park, Chicago on October 28, from a field of internationally known distance stars.

On November 24 he came in first in the Central Intercollegiate cross country meet, run over the Michigan State course. Tom Ottey and Otto Pongrace, both of Michigan State, finished second and third to Sears.

On October 13 the Bulldogs encountered the Michigan State team and fell before it, 20 to 35. Although Sears captured first place in the race, six Michigan State Harriers came in before Zahn, the next Butler runner to cross the finish line.

On October 21 the Phillipsmen were hosts to the Indiana University cross country runners in a race which was run during the rest period of the Butler-Wabash football game. Indiana won the meet by a score of 20 to 35.

Sears again bested the field, but the next Blue and White Harrier to cross the finish line was Zahn, who took seventh place, giving the margin to the visitors.

The Ball State runners defeated the Butler team 19 to 36 on the Muncie course on October 28, with Zahn placing second, Doudican eighth, and Ryker ninth.

Illinois Normal was the next foe, and handed the Blue and White Harriers a 23 to 32 lacing on the Illinois home course on November 17. Sears finished first, Zahn fourth, Lowther eighth, Doudican ninth, and Ryker tenth.

The last dual meet was a return contest with Ball State and the Muncie school again defeated the Blue, 20 to 35. Sears, Griffin and Zahn captured the first three places, but the Ball State team finished in the next five to give it the winning points.

Relays

The fieldhouse presented a beautiful scene of lights, white lines, trained athletes, and vigilant officials when the second annual Butler relays opened.

Willis Ward, Michigan, was high-point man of the relays and led his team to victory with three firsts and a second.

Governor Paul V. McNutt sat opposite the finish line as honorary referee at the relays.

Willis Ward goes over the bar at 6 feet 2 inches, which he later bettered by several inches to win the event for Michigan.

Jane Hennessey tries on one of the gold shoes awarded to winning relay teams, and it evidently meets with her approval.

Janet Jerman presented a beautiful picture as Queen of the relays, when she presented trophies to the winning teams.

Haye Lambutus came in first in one of the hurdle races. The reproduction shows him approaching the lead, several feet in the lead.

The Queen presided over the well-stocked trophy table during the relays, and as each event was concluded, she presented its winner with an award.

Glenn Cunningham, Kansas, won the invitational mile run, and was one of the outstanding stars in the meet.

Fagan of Notre Dame won his preliminary hurdle event in the afternoon. Others in the heat were White of Ohio Wesleyan, Hunt of Michigan, and Lee of DePauw.

Relays

Among the best shot putters in the country were Neal of Ohio State, Cook of Illinois, Davis of Hillsdale College, Dryer of Kansas State Teachers College of Emporia, Kansas, and Dees of Kansas.

Kenneth Sandbach, Purdue, won the final event in the high hurdles in world record time, edging out Ward of Michigan.

Irvin Seeley, Illinois, going over the bar at 12 feet 6 inches. He later won the event for the Illinois team.

Neal of Ohio State and Cook of Illinois received trophies in the shotput event. Cook tied with Dees of Nebraska for first, and Neal was third.

Cobb of Michigan State is shown crossing the finish line in one of the relay races.

Ward of Michigan, Schoeninger of Illinois, Sandbach of Purdue, and White of Ohio Wesleyan are shown crossing the first barrier together in one of the high hurdle races.

"Peg" Parker was all decked out with medals and cups just before the opening of the relays, several of which remained "at home."

Major John L. Griffith, big ten commissioner of athletics, was the official starter for the second running of the relays.

Governor Paul V. McNutt presented the high team trophy to Hunn, captain of the Michigan team.

The Butler team of Lowther, Carr, Zahn, and Sears retained the Colledge Medley relay championship, with Sears performing in stellar fashion in the anchor mile.

Raymond Sears entered Butler University in the fall of 1931, and proceeded to easily defeat all of Coach Phillips' distance men. The Coach knew at that time that he had a man who "Would make of him a good track coach," since it is his theory that stellar track men make their coaches in a great many instances.

Sears developed a great deal more speed as well as form in his sophomore year, under the tutelage of "Phil," and at the beginning of this year, he showed the unusual promise that his record of national championships, track records, and one native American record bears out.

On October 28 Sears was entered in the National A. A. U. cross country meet at Chicago. The race was run over a 10,000 meter distance, and Ray came in first by several yards. Losing to him in this race were runners of international and Olympic fame.

His next meet of importance was the Central Intercollegiate cross country meet held on November 24 at Michigan State. In this race Sears defeated Tom Ottey of Michigan State. Ottey is the former national 10,000 meter champion, and represented the United States in this event in the last Olympic games.

It was at the historic K. of C. games in Madison Square Garden, New York, that he climaxed his previous showing by winning the two-mile event in 9:7.4, lowering the eleven-year-old American record of Joie Ray by a full second.

To date in big-time outdoor competition, Sears has won for Butler the two-mile event at the Drake relays and the 1,500 meter run at the Kansas relays.

In view of his present speed and form, he will be an even stronger contender for high honors next year, and will probably be chosen to represent the United States in the next Olympic games.

VARSITY SWIMMING SQUAD

Swimming

Utilizing Butler's splendid $40,000 swimming pool, the athletic department, in following out a general expansion program, organized a varsity swimming team for the first time in several years. It was largely at the instigation of James Clark that the work was undertaken. Clark volunteered his services both as student coach and swimmer.

At the first call for candidates it was found that there was a particular lack of experienced material. None of the ten or twelve men who reported, with the exception of Clark himself, had ever engaged in any competitive swimming. However, with patience and practice a fairly reputable squad was developed.

The schedule included eight dual meets and the Missouri Valley championships. Two of these meets were won, with a second in the Missouri Valley meet. The wins came over the Evansville Y.M.C.A. and Wabash.

Teams which defeated the Butler natators were the powerful Indiana university team, the Evansville Y.M.C.A. in a return meet, Wabash in a return meet, the Eagles club of Richmond (twice), and the state championship Huntington Y.M.C.A. team.

The season was successfully climaxed when Clark took seven men to St. Louis where they placed second in the Valley meet. Washington was first, Oklahoma A. and M. third, and Grinnell fourth. In this meet Butler's only first place was won by Jim Stewart in the diving.

Other points scored were by Clark who took fourth in the back-stroke. The Medley relay team of Stewart, Clark, and Thomas, and the 400-yard relay team of Wood, Thomas, Macdonald and Ryan, each placed third.

The squad was represented by Jac Ochiltree, Macdonald, Ryan, Wood, and Thomas in the free-style; Clark and J. Stewart in the back-stroke; Clark and Koss in the breast-stroke, and J. Stewart in the divind. The freshmen participated in all but the intercollegiate meets.

Possibilities for a better team next year seem good as only J. Stewart will be lost by graduation.

FRESHMAN SWIMMING TEAM

Swimming

A strong freshman squad supported Butler during the past swimming season. Although the freshman swimmers dropped three meets, inexperience proved their greatest weakness. Coach Clark expects to develop a much stronger team next season.

Three rhinie meets were held in February in the home pool. The Purdue freshman team came down from Lafayette and downed the Clarkmen 51 to 22, the Columbus High school swimmers knocked them off to the tune of 41 to 16, and the Wabash freshmen downed them 26 to 22 in a meet in which there were less than the regulation number of events.

The latter contest was held as a preliminary to the varsity meet with Wabash. The frosh and the varsity teams also engaged in a practice meet in which the frosh came out with a 47 to 39 victory, indicating the added strength to be expected for the varsity with the addition of this group.

Free-stylers on the Bullpup squad were Martz, Kay, Woolling, Disher, Taylor, and Larmon. Ochiltree and Hunter swam in the breast-stroke event, and Scott swam in the backstroke event.

Jac Ochiltree was the outstanding performer, swimming the 200-yard breast-stroke in the fast time of 2:52 to win the Bullpups' only first place against the Purdue frosh. Ochiltree also placed first in the breast-stroke race in the meet with Columbus High school.

Martz, Woolling, and Kay showed much promise in the sprint events, and Coach Clark indicated that he expected them to develop much more speed next year. Disher, Scott, and Hunter are also expected to develop into varsity material.

During the varsity meet with Indiana University, a special breast-stroke race was swam between Ochiltree and "Fish" Meyers of Indiana, who is rated as one of the best swimmers in this event in the middle west. Meyers bested the Butler natator by less than a yard in the 200-yard event, being forced to cover the distance in 2:48.2.

VARSITY BASEBALL SQUAD

Baseball

The Bulldog nine started out this year to make up for a rather disastrous 1933 season, in which many more games were lost than were won. Four lettermen, Sutphin, Davis, Baird, and Zimmerman, formed the nucleus of the squad.

The opener for the Hinklemen was played at Lafayette, where they engaged Purdue in a two-day series on April 13 and 14. The first game was called on account of darkness with the score tied at 7 to 7.

The Bulldogs led up until the last half of the ninth when Fehring hit a long fly that brought in Giannini. Sutphin pitched and Zimmerman caught for the Blue.

On the following day the Boilermakers rapped the visitors 30 to 3, with Davis pitching.

On April 20 the Bulldog nine travelled to Crawfordsville for a 4 to 2 defeat at the hands of the Little Giants. Sutphin drove out a long single in the sixth inning to score Butler's only runs.

Wabash opened the scoring in the fourth. In the seventh, a walk, an error, and two hits accounted for the winning runs. Sutphin and Zimmerman handled the pitching and catching assignments.

A practice game with the Fort Harrison team netted the Bulldogs a 10 to 5 victory. The Hinklemen grabbed a lead in the early stanzas, and Davis held the Soldiers to six scattered hits.

On April 27 the Bulldogs downed Franklin 8 to 3 on the Franklin diamond. Sutphin started his team's offensive in the first inning with a double, scoring two of his teammates.

He added further to his laurels in the fifth, driving out a home run reported to be the longest ever hit on the Franklin diamond. The Bulldog hurler kept the opposing hits well scattered.

The remainder of the schedule calls for games with Indiana Central on May 1, Wabash on May 4, Franklin on May 8, Wabash on May 15, Indiana Central (there) on May 25, and Wabash (there) on June 2.

VARSITY TENNIS SQUAD

Tennis

Coach Haworth's State Intercollegiate tennis champions started their season by shutting out the Indiana State netters 6 to 0 on the Sycamores' home court.

Demmary defeated Howard, 6-2, 6-1; Meunier defeated Johnson, 6-3, 6-2; Stubbs defeated Runyan, 4-6, 6-3, 11-9, and Brafford defeated Ruddell, 6-1, 6-1, in the singles.

In the doubles Demmary and Meunier teamed to defeat Howard and Runyan, 6-0, 6-0, and Stubbs and Brafford teamed to defeat Armstrong and Johnson, 6-2, 6-2.

In the second match of the season the Bulldog netters won a straight set shut-out victory over the Wabash courtmen, 7 to 0, on the inside courts in the fieldhouse.

In the singles Meunier defeated Elliott, 6-2, 6-2; Demmary defeated Fobes, 6-4, 6-3; Stubbs defeated Darnell, 6-3, 6-0; Brafford defeated Larrabee, 6-2, 6-1, and Southworth defeated Schnetnitz, 6-3, 6-2.

In the doubles competition Demmary teamed with Stubbs to beat Fobes and Elliott, 6-2, 6-0, and Meunier and Brafford paired to down Larrabee and Darnell, 6-1, 6-0.

On April 26 a return match was played with the Crawfordsville team, and again it was shut out by Bulldog onslaught, although two sets went to more than ten games.

In the singles matches V. Meunier downed Elliott, 6-3, 6-1; Demmary defeated Fobes, 7-5, 6-4; Stubbs rapped Darnell, 6-1, 6-0; Brafford beat Larrabee, 6-4, 6-2, and A. Meunier downed Ronck, 6-0, 6-2.

In the doubles contests V. Meunier and Demmary teamed to edge out Fobes and Elliott, 10-8, 6-4, and Demmary and Johnson paired to win over Larrabee and Johnson, 6-2, 6-2.

The remainder of the schedule had not been definitely mapped out at this writing, but Coach Haworth indicated that both the State Intercollegiate and Missouri valley tournaments would probably be played on the same dates, and that the Butler squad would defend its two State titles rather than its valley doubles championship.

21 to 0, the B.I.A. 21 to 0, and the Newman club forfeited to them, later in the season.

The winner's high scoring was due largely to the accuracy of their aerial attack, with Frank Reissner and Ralph Brafford doing most of the passing. Bradford was on the receiving end of many of his team's completed pass-plays.

I-M Football

A close race was run for the intramural football championship, with the Sigma Chis edging the Phi Deltos for first place with five victories and one tie against the Phi Delt record of three victories and three ties.

The Sigs tied the Phi Deltos 13 to 13 in their first game, and downed the Lambda Chis 27 to 0, the Deltos 6 to 0, the Sigma Nus

I-M Basketball

Delta Tau Delta defeated Sigma Nu 22 to 20 for the university basketball championship. Missing 15 to 25 free throws contributed largely to the loss of the game for the losers.

The Deltos attained an early lead and kept a wide gap in the score for the major portion of the game. As the contest drew to a close, the trailing Sigma Nu five staged a rally and were within two or three points of the lead several times.

But determined play on the part of the winners, as well as poor shooting from the field proved the undoing of the losers.

Several Delta Tau Delta players were ejected from the game via the personal foul route.

I-M Crosscountry

Left to right: Joseph Taylor, Donn Nicewander, Alfred Coffin, and William Watkins. Ralph Simpson, Robert Pruyn, and Kirkwood Yockey, other members of the Delt team, are not shown.

Delta Tau Delta emerged victorious in the intramural cross-country meet last fall, with runners coming in for fifth, eighth, tenth, twelfth, and thirteenth places, and the low score of 48 points.

Phi Delta Theta scored 55 for second, Lambda Chi Alpha scored 77 for third, Sigma Chi scored 93 for fourth, and Sigma Nu scored 104 for fifth.

The first five Delt harriers to cross the finish line were Simpson, in fifth place, Pruyn in eighth, Watkins in tenth, Yockey in twelfth, and Coffin in thirteenth. Individual stars for their teams were Griffin, who won first place; Gerkensmeyer, second; Ervin, third; Smith, fourth; Taylor, sixth; Mendenhall, seventh; and P. Carr, ninth.

I-M Swimming

The Phi Delta Theta swimming team captured the University swimming trophy, with the Sigma Chis placing second, the Sigma Nus third, Lambda Chi Alpha fourth, and the Delta Tau Delta natators trailing in last place.

The well balanced squad entered by the winners, rather than individual talent, played the greatest part in furnishing them the margin of victory. The meet was a one-day contest, instead of the usual two-day affair, and the cup went to the Phi Delt for the second consecutive year.

Martz and Johnson copped first places for the winners, and were the outstanding performers on their team.

I-M Bowling

The Newman club bested the Sigma Nu team to win the university bowling championship, running up a margin of more than 100 pins in the final two-game match.

In the first of the two games, the winners started out in hard luck, rolling several splits and having many misses. Toward the last, however, they picked up some pins, and the game ended with the Newman team leading by 21 pins.

From then on the inners coasted into an easy victory as the Sigma Nu team lost control and scored misses in frame after frame. Hoffman rolled best for the Newman club, and King was high man on the Sigma Nu team.

I-M Ping Pong

The Blackhawks, an independent aggregation in intramural competition, won the university Ping Pong championship. The winners played through the entire season without losing a single match, although the Phi Delta Theta A team gave them a close battle, losing 3 to 2 in a hotly contested battle.

The winners downed the Phi Delta Theta B team by a score of 5 to 0 in the final game of their schedule. Robert Eynotten played with the Blackhawk team until the last two matches, when he was not in school. Roger Hormell replaced him in the line-up. The winners were organized and captained by Phil Thompson, who also starred on the tables.

I-M Managers

last year, to the Senior managership. Barry appointed three freshmen, James, Noe, Ralph Taylor, and John Carter to be his assistants.

Their duties are to make out schedules, provide officials for contests, and otherwise aid in carrying out of the policies of the Director of Intramurals. They receive minor awards in recognition of their services.

With the inauguration of a system by which any organization or group in the university could take part in intramural activities, Coach Mackey, Director of Intramurals, introduced a plan to share in the governing of competition through student managers.

The plan was a success last year and was continued during the past year with the appointment of Robert Barry, who was a Junior manager

Bluegills

The university's most recently formed organization, the Butler Bluegills, was created at the beginning of the fall semester of this year by twelve girls who are interested in all athletics, but in swimming, particularly.

Their purpose, other than that of amusing themselves by participation in the swimming activities of the club, was to stimulate an interest among other women students in this form of athletics. The group directed the women's intramural swimming activities which took place May 7 and 8, as a part of the Women's Athletic Association intramural competition.

Twelve women as charter members of the Butler Bluegills constituted the membership of the organization at its founding, but during the year twelve new members have been admitted. These women, as well as the charter members, have been required to pass an entrance examination which consists of endurance swimming, speed tests, as well as form and demonstration diving.

Miss Alexander and Miss Eastburn

Meetings have been held twice each month at the Butler pool at which time members participate in water games, exhibition practices, and recreational swimming.

The insignia of the club is a blue felt bluegill on an oval background of white felt which is worn by members on their swimming suits.

Last fall Charlene Heard was elected president; Juanita Kehn, vice-president; and Mary Elizabeth Renick, secretary-treasurer of the group. Members chose Miss Martha Alexander of the physical education department as their faculty sponsor.

As its project for the year, the Bluegills took charge of the swimming exhibition which provided the afternoon entertainment for Play Day, March 8, at which delegates from colleges in Indiana were guests.

Members took part in a swimming pageant, consisting of exhibition swimming and racing, diving, and games of various sorts. Later, all women students and guests at Play Day took part in the swimming demonstration.

Indianapolis abounds in athletic clubs, secret orders, social lodges and other organizations devoted to sponsoring the events that draw society out each year in all its brilliance. Almost every order or lodge of national importance has a branch in Indianapolis.

Butler has an excellent group of national fraternities and sororities on its campus. Four of them have chosen to build on fraternity row and more undoubtedly will build there in the future.

Newman Club

With the same initiative as the students who founded the first Newman Club in 1893, a group of Butler students of the Catholic faith organized such a club on the Butler campus in 1932. They set as their aim the achievement of the three-fold principles of an ideal education, namely their spiritual, intellectual and social development.

The last Most Reverend Joseph Chartrand, bishop of Indianapolis, provided, as the home of the new organization, the house located at 4610 north Illinois street, now known as Newman Hall. The Reverend Henry Dugan was appointed moderator of the club.

Two dances, one in the fall and the other in the spring, as well as occasional parties were given throughout the year at Newman Hall. Communion breakfasts were served on two Sundays. Club members participate in university activities of athletic, scholastic and social character.

Officers for the year have been Harold Davidson, president; Joseph Land, vice-president; George Hoffman, treasurer; and William Rohr, secretary.

The first Newman Club in the United States was founded in October, 1893, to satisfy the spiritual needs of a group of Catholic students at the University of Pennsylvania. Among its founders was Dr. James J. Walsh, Knight of Saint Gregory, distinguished author, lecturer and physician.

The club was named after the English Cardinal, John Henry Newman, author of "Idea of a University" and composer of "Lead Kindly Light."

The organization of the Butler Newman Club is similar to that of social fraternities of the campus, and members take part as representatives of their group in intramural sports as well as in other organization activities.

Panhellenic Council

The Panhellenic Association, a cooperative organization of women's fraternities at Butler, is composed of two representatives from each of the sororities on the campus. One junior and one senior woman from each sorority is chosen in April to serve on the council for a year. Mrs. Alice Bidwell Wesenberg serves as faculty advisor for Panhellenic.

The activities of this organization have been numerous and important. Representatives from the Butler Panhellenic group were sent during the year to two national and to one state Panhellenic conventions.

On October 13 and 14 Mary Alice Burch and Marjorie Carr were sent as Butler delegates to the National Panhellenic Congress in Chicago. Olive Steinle represented Butler at the Urban Panhellenic conference held April 19, 20, and 21 in Washington, D. C. At the same time, Mary Alice Burch, Sylvia Orr, and Marjorie Carr were delegates to a meeting of representatives of all Indiana universities at DePauw University, Greencastle, April 21. All of these delegates conveyed the theories and beliefs of the local chapter to the various assemblies and brought back reports of discussions, suggested improvements, and advice which were brought out in the programs of the convention.

Panhellenic sponsored its annual formal dance in November this year at the Indianapolis Athletic Club, with Alene McComb as general chairman of the affair.

The rotation method is used in selecting officers for the group, by which a representative of each organization holds offices in order of organizational establishment on the campus. Mary Alice Burch served during the past year as president with Sylvia Orr as secretary-treasurer. In April, 1934, Sylvia Orr assumed the office of president, and Betty Kalleen became secretary-treasurer.

Sorority Presidents' Council

The Sorority Presidents' Council is an organization founded in 1930 under the supervision of Dean Evelyn Butler. Its aim, similar to that of the Panhellenic Council, is to bring together members of national women's fraternities for better cooperation and understanding.

In the meetings of this organization, heads of the ten national sororities on the campus receive opportunities to discuss their mutual problems and have the advantage of giving and receiving advice on ways of coping with difficult organization problems.

The council has come to be, therefore, of vital importance among Butler social groups. Heretofore when each organization worked individually, similar problems of separate groups could not be dealt with so satisfactorily as they are now when put before the consideration of an impartial body. Much has been done to create a more friendly spirit of rivalry in the activities of the entire university. The Sorority Presidents' Council works in a constructive way with the Women's Council to solve organization difficulties.

The officers of the council who were elected last fall are Avanelle Brenneman, president, and Florence Condrey, secretary.

During the year the Sorority Presidents' Council sponsored a series of talks on proper dress and etiquette which were given by Miss Kathryn Journey and Miss Helen Cade, both members of the university faculty in the home economics department.

Reports of the talks were carried to sorority meetings and discussed. Members of the council felt that since problems of dress and etiquette are of primary importance to college women and play so prominent a part in modern social life, this comprehensive study and discussion was of value to their organizations. Similar constructive programs will be conducted by the group next year.

The council has met this year for its discussion meetings once a month with its faculty sponsor, Mrs. Alice Bidwell Wesenberg, who has supervised and guided its activities.

Butler Independent Association

The Butler Independent Association, the organization for non-fraternity and non-sorority men and women on the campus, was formed in September of 1932 to fill the need for the expression of the opinions of unorganized students in campus life. The association did not, however, come into concrete form until Virginia Goldsboro, Lucille Wahl, Ralph Ross, and Noe Higinbotham, who had formed a small independent group as candidates for Student Council offices, formulated a constitution which they presented at the first meeting of unorganized students interested in forming the B. I. A.

Ralph Ross, temporary chairman at this first meeting, presented an outline of the work to be done by the organization. The constitution was discussed and adopted, and charter members pledged their support of the group.

At the second meeting of B. I. A. the following members were elected to serve as the first officers of the group: Julius Thorman, president; Noe Higinbotham, men's vice-president; Marguerite Emery, women's vice-president; Virginia Goldsboro, secretary; Walter Creason, treasurer; Ralph Ross, publicity chairman; Dorothy Prebster; social chairman; and Norman Peine, political committee chairman.

Dr. Ray C. Friesner, head of the Botany department, and Mrs. Eugene Fife of the public speaking department were made faculty sponsors of the organization at a later meeting.

Then the task of securing new members was attacked with the result that a membership of fifty-eight was secured. Members were kept busy during the year with various campus and social activities. Several social events in the form of teas and parties were held. Interest was aroused in intramural sports with the result that B. I. A. teams were formed which took an active part in sports competitions with those of other organizations. At this time interest was aroused in scholastic achievement as well.

With the beginning of the new school year last fall the attention of the members was again turned toward membership with the intention of carrying out the B. I. A. policy of helping independent students have an active part in student affairs.

Some of the year's activities and accomplishments of the association are: the election of a class president from the B. I. A. ranks; first place in the Y. W. C. A. doll show at Christmas time; the victory of the B. I. A. team in the Utes Club bridge tournament; the sponsoring of several social events during the year including the organization's major function, the mid-term all university B. I. A. dance at the Knights of Columbus hall; the promotion of the play, "The Good and Bad Mr. Whipple," given by Thespis; and lastly the acquisition, decorating, and furnishing of a B. I. A. room, B-41, in Jordan hall.

The organization has had an active part in many Butler affairs and has supported its candidates for various class offices.

During the period of the formation of the B. I. A. a great effort has been made by members of the group toward securing the interest and membership of every unorganized student on the campus. It is felt by the group that any student can enjoy a university education to its fullest capacity only through active participation in social, political, and cultural affairs.

The badge which was chosen last year is a black shield edged in gold with the letters B. I. A. in the center in gold.

Officers for this year have been Nathaniel Fick, president; Richard Peine, men's vice-president; Nadine Beauchamp, women's vice-president; Fay Kenoyer, secretary; Wallace Knapp, treasurer; Charlotte Dunn, social chairman, Harold Carson, activities chairman.

First row: Mildred Claffey, President; Maurine Collins, Phillipa Schreiber, Neoma Lichtenberg, Margaret Harris. Last row: Marie Michaelis, Donnabelle Naylor, Myrtle Berkshire, Ruth Schwab.

A gigantic system of water mains underneath the city streets must be maintained in perfect working condition to distribute safe water to homes, stores, and factories, and to concentrate the water supply at all points in the city menaced by fire.

Water mains must keep pace with the city's growth. No water, no city! To-day this huge system contains 659 miles of mains ranging in size from four to forty-two inches in diameter.

That diploma you receive from Butler University is a certificate of merit. It is awarded by your highest critical authorities for work well done.

Likewise, the Indianapolis water supply system has received certificates of merit from the nation's highest critical authorities over public water supplies.

ON MAINTAINING LEADERSHIP . . .

- To win and consistently hold a place as the recognized leader of school annual printing, has been the record of Rogers Printing Company since its beginning in 1908.
- That we have, during a period of 26 years, successfully produced over 700 annuals for schools throughout the country, attests our ability to completely satisfy the most discriminating Year Book Staff.
- New ideas, coupled with the knowledge and experience gained through a quarter of a century's service, insure the school who chooses a Rogers' printed book, of ideal pages "From Start to Finish."
- We are proud that the staff of this book entrusted its printing to our organization and we herewith present it as an example of our work.
